HOPE HELD AS YOUTH BATTLES

Condition of President's Son Still Critical, Doctors Report

PRESIDENT PRAYS AT BOY'S BEDSIDE

Patient Passes Through Crisis As Slight Relief Is Noted

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, July 7.—The condition of President Coolidge's son, Calvin Jr., is "still critical in the extreme" it was declared late today at the Walter Reed hospital, following another conference of the physicians attending the boy.

There has been little change in young Calvin's condition, one way or the other, it was added.

As the hours wore on today and Calvin still clung to life with an unbelievable tenacity in the face of desperate conditions, hope was revived that he would pull through.

An encouraging sign was Calvin's return to almost full consciousness from the semi-coma into which he fell during the sinking spells last night. He recognized those about him and showed great courage in permitting the doctors to handle him in the process of their treatment, although in great pain, unrelieved, as reported, by opiates.

His fever, however, continued at a height which few people survive and other indications pointed to a continuing critical condition.

Though the fact that he had passed through a crisis in which the doctors gave him only one chance in 1,000 to survive and was holding his own hours afterward, brought a distinct sense of relief in the sick room.

For the first time in 24 hours those caring for him permitted themselves to believe that perhaps after all he would live.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, worn and tired from an almost unbroken vigil of 72 hours left the hospital to lunch at the White House, indicating that no immediate change for the worse was in prospect.

Dr. William M. Gerry Morgan, stomach specialist of Washington, was added to the list of consultants today to cope with the accumulation of gas in the boy's stomach, which was preventing his taking any nourishment.

The President of the United States prayed today at the bedside of his younger son.

Not as the nation's chief executive but as a father, knowing in full measure a father's grief just as it comes to the humblest in the land—Mr. Coolidge brought the simple, rugged New England faith of his ancestors to ask that his son be spared.

With the president was Mrs. Coolidge, nearly worn out with anxiety and sorrow for the son she loves, and whom the finest surgeons of Washington are almost

Speedy Trial For Dunlap Aim of Keyes

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—The capture of Harry J. Dunlap, "badge bandit" by Detroit police is "the most terrible blow yet struck in the war against assaulters of women," according to a statement issued by District Attorney Asa Keyes today. "Dunlap is the most dangerous man of this class that ever operated in this country. His freedom from capture has lent encouragement to others of his kind," Keyes said.

"I shall do everything in my power to see that the efforts of Sheriff Traeger in capturing him are rewarded by bringing him to a speedy trial."

ROBBERY CASE PAIR ACCUSED BY ORIENTAL

Y. M. Taisuke, diminutive Japanese from Garden Grove, told from the witness stand in Justice J. B. Cox's court here today how three men had approached him when his car became mired on a road near Healy, had demanded money or a $20 check, and getting neither, had vented their displeasure by attacking him.

Before his eyesight was cut off, however, Taisuke managed to get a good, square look at his alleged assailants, he indicated today. And he identified two of them as George Wright, of Orange, and George Smith, of Tustin, who were defendants at today's hearing, charged with an attempt to commit robbery.

The three men stopped their car near his Taisuke said, relating the circumstances partly with the aid of an interpreter. Wright, he said, demanded money, and when he refused, he reached the Japanese and found a check book, which he presented to its owner with another demand that a $20 check be produced.

"He said he beat me if I don't," said the witness.

Smith took occasion, according to the witness, to impress a warning on the victim.

"You heard what he said," Smith warned Taisuke the latter testified. "When no check was forthcoming, Wright made good his asserted threat, Taisuke testified. The little Japanese, it appeared, was left shattered but struck down over eyes that saw only stars. On the witness stand, Taisuke rubbed his head mournfully with recollection of his experience.

"He broke my heart," said Taisuke, apparently, but it developed, after explanations by the interpreter, that he meant hat instead of heart.

Smith was represented by Attorney Morris Cain at today's proceedings, but Wright had no counsel. Deputy District Attorney Kenneth H. Burns conducted the prosecution.

Smith has been under $2500 bail since his arrest. Wright, unable to supply bail, has been in the county jail. Wright also faces a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He is said to have admitted his guilt of that offense.

ARREST PEACEMAKER.

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., July 7.—Members of the Baptist church at Mount Zion were having an argument. T. E. Stewart, deacon of the church, tried to make peace. Art Tume, one of the arguers, ordered Stewart arrested for his interference.

'BADGE BANDIT' IN JAIL

TWO WOMEN HURT BADLY IN CRASHES

No Fatalities As Auto In Spectacular Plunge From Cliffs; Pedestrian Hit

Though a woman 70 years old lay at the point of death at a hospital here today after, as a pedestrian, she was felled here by an automobile, and another woman, aged 24, as if by a miracle escaped certain death but suffered severe injuries when in her car she and her baby plunged over a high cliff at Laguna Beach to the beach below, where the little one was found unscratched, authorities expressed surprise and relief that few mishaps marked the record-breaking traffic of the weekend.

Mrs. E. S. Lord, 70 years old, of Long Beach, sustained a fractured skull and a fractured left arm, as well as body bruises, when she was struck by a light automobile driven by Earl Garrett, 19, of 1023 West First street. According to the report made to the police, the woman was attempting to cross Fifth street at Sycamore street when Garrett's car struck her. She was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where it was reported today her condition was critical. Mrs. Lord had been visiting in Santa Ana at the home of G. Pickering, her son, at 1207 North Garnsey street, according to information taken at the hospital.

Spectacular Plunge Mrs. L. W. Blunt, 24, was the only person injured in a spectacular accident occurring near Laguna Beach yesterday when the automobile in which she was sitting, with her 14-month-old son and her mother, Mrs. Lilly A. Fagan, 60, all of Long Beach, plunged over a twenty-five foot cliff, landing upside-down within a few feet of a group of picnickers. Mrs. Blunt sustained a fractured right leg and two fractured ribs. The baby was uninjured. Mrs. Fagan saved herself by jumping from the car as it reached the edge of the cliff. After receiving first aid treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital here Mrs. Blunt was taken to the Seaside hospital in Long Beach.

Ben Warner, a Santa Ana tire salesman who witnessed the accident, which he said occurred between Boat Cove and Crescent Cove, described the crash as follows:

"The touring car was parked approximately fifty feet from the bluff. The brake had been set, according to Mrs. Blunt. Mrs. Blunt and the little boy were sitting in the front seat. It is presumed the brake was released in some way by Mrs. Blunt. When the car started to roll toward the cliff, the women screamed. Blunt attempted to stop the machine by grabbing one of the rear wheels. The car was badly hurt in the attempt. The grandmother managed to get out of the car just as it started over the bluff—how she got out she does not know.

Misses Beach Folk "John Traylor and I were playing ball on the sand below. We saw the car coming over the cliff and yelled to a family group having dinner on the ledge of rocks, directly under the point where the car plunged over the edge. The group did not hear us. The car struck within five feet of the group, and within a foot or two of a little girl of the party who was sitting a short distance from the group.

"The car struck nose first on a projecting rock about half way down the bluff, turned over and landed upside-down and rolled over on its side. Running to the scene of the accident we found Mrs. Blunt pinned under the car. The baby was about five feet away. The automobile was wrecked beyond repair. How its two occupants escaped instant death is one of the mysteries of the accident."

Ralph C. Smedley of 1008 North Flower street, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, today reported that his car was damaged Saturday in San Juan canyon when an unidentified motorist driving a car bearing California license 626-676 crashed into the side of his automobile and then sped away without stopping to inquire about the damage.

"The auto crowded past a hay truck and did not slow up when I

Dohenys Open Fight On Indictments

WASHINGTON, July 7.—E. L. Doheny and E. L. Doheny Jr., today filed motions in the district supreme court to quash the indictments recently returned against them by the special grand jury charging conspiracy and bribery.

They contended the indictments were invalid because of the presence of a department of justice official in the grand jury room during the taking of testimony. Prosecution of the oil cases, their motions said, was taken out of the hands of the department by a special act of congress and put in charge of special government counsel. Hence they contended the department of justice official was illegally present with the jury.

MEXICO STILL IN DOUBT ON VOTE RESULT

(By United Press Leased Wire) MEXICO CITY, July 7.—Supporters of both Generals Flores and Calles claim victory in yesterday's presidential election, with little probability any decision will be reached until congress convenes next fall to count the vote.

Feeling between partisans of the two candidates is so acute that in some quarters it is believed neither of them may be seated and the outcome may be a continuation of President Obregon in office as a military dictator.

SON OF CANDIDATE ONCE NEWPORT BEACH STUDENT

Residents of Newport Beach today recalled a period ten years ago when Elias Calles Jr., then 14 years of age, was a student in the public school of that city.

Young Calles attended the Newport Beach grammar school for one year, entering in the fall of 1914 and quitting near the close of the term in the following spring.

Mrs. J. A. Porter, principal of the school at that time, today recalled that young Calles was one of the brightest children in school. She said he was shy and diffident, but nevertheless intelligent and a type that impressed one as having a great deal of reserve force.

When he entered school at Newport Beach young Calles could barely speak in the English language. This handicapped him somewhat in his studies, said Mrs. Porter. However, he learned quickly and the city of Newport Beach depended almost entirely upon the youth as interpreter.

Young Calles, while at Newport Beach, was under the watchful eye of Felix Clavere, who operated the Newport Hotel at the time. Clavere was badly hurt in the crash of the father of Calles.

After leaving Newport Elias Calles Jr., went to San Francisco where he was entered in a private school. He later entered the state university at Berkeley but never completed his course.

DUNLAP HELD BY DETROIT OFFICIALS

Notorious Slayer Identified After Arrest On Check Passing Charge

(By United Press Leased Wire) DETROIT, Mich., July 7.—A suspect held by Detroit police today was identified as William Wilson, 32, alleged "foothill bandit" wanted for murder, robbery and other serious crimes in Los Angeles and Sacramento.

A reward of $1000 and another for $250 are out for Wilson's capture.

Hewas arrested here Saturday when a storekeeper became suspicious of checks that Wilson offered in payment for some silk stockings, police said.

Wilson has served time in Leavenworth penitentiary, Missouri state penitentiary and the prison at Hoboken, N. J.

RECALL LONG LIST OF DUNLAP CRIMES.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—Harry J. Dunlap, arrested in Detroit under the name of William Wilson, and known throughout California as the "badge bandit," has a criminal record almost unequalled, according to records in the sheriff's office here.

Dunlap was given the title of the "badge bandit" here last year when he committed a series of crimes, using a deputy sheriff's badge as a blind in his outrages.

Killed Sacramento Man.

Records show that he assaulted Mrs. Hazel Wables, on the El Monte boulevard. This was followed by the murder of Harry J. Brown, in Sacramento, December 18. The killing of William Jacobson and assault of his wife is also laid to Dunlap. Besides these, a long list of attacks on women, robberies and other crimes is assigned to the "badge bandit."

Mrs. Dunlap, who has consistently aided deputy sheriffs in pursuit of her husband, later had an adventure which nearly cost her life. Threatened Wife.

She plotted with authorities to accompany her husband to Glendale on a train, where officers were to board the car and arrest him. As said he was shy and diffident, but nevertheless intelligent and a type that impressed one as having a great deal of reserve force.

When he entered school at Newport Beach young Calles could barely speak in the English language. This handicapped him somewhat in his studies, said Mrs. Porter. However, he learned quickly and the city of Newport Beach depended almost entirely upon the youth as interpreter.

Young Calles, while at Newport Beach, was under the watchful eye of Felix Clavere, who operated the Newport Hotel at the time. Clavere was badly hurt in the crash of the father of Calles.

After leaving Newport Elias Calles Jr., went to San Francisco where he was entered in a private school. He later entered the state university at Berkeley but never completed his course.

Facing Many Charges

In addition to the charge, Dunlap will face charges of robbery, assault and murder in at least fifty other cases, authorities said. Dunlap's prison record is already an impressive one. Under a dozen or more aliases, he has been under arrest many times in various parts of the country, and has served time for an array of crimes including worthless check passing, defrauding a hotel, impersonating a government officer, perjury, vagrancy and robbery.

Thornton Estate Valued at $2400

An estate valued at $2400 was left by the late H. Newton Thornton, Santa Ana architect, who was drowned with his two sons and five others in Newport harbor, June 8, according to a petition for letters of administration on file today in the superior court here.

The two survivors of the family, Mrs. Lillian Thornton and her daughter, Adeline, 14, of 512 West Bishop street, were named in the petition as heirs to the estate.

Claims Women Could End Democrat Row

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—Mrs. Lucas of Ponca City, Okla., was among the outspokenly disgusted delegates today. "The trouble with this convention," she said, "is that it lacks a leader. If they would turn it over to the Federation of Women's Clubs to run we would end it and be on our way home tonight."

PARIS, July 7.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald is hurrying to Paris to straighten out a misunderstanding that has arisen over a proposed inter-allied conference on the experts' plan.

The British premier notified Premier Herriot he would arrive here at 4 p. m. tomorrow for a conference.

The French were bitter because MacDonald invited the powers and outlined a tentative agenda without first submitting the text of the invitation and program for France's approval.

AMERICAN STAR RUNNERS LOSE TO BRITISHER

COLOMBES STADIUM, Paris, July 7.—H. M. Abrahams, former Cambridge University star, dashed the hopes of the United States for a clean sweep in the 100 meter dash at the Olympics today, when he defeated the four fastest American runners and won the final heat in record time.

Jackson V. Scholz, New York A. C. runner, who had counted on to win ten points for the United States in this event, was second, while the New Zealand sprinter, Porritt, took third place.

Chester Bowman, Syracuse, who won the final trial at Cambridge, Mass., last month, was fourth, with Charles Paddock fifth and Loren Murchison sixth.

America picked up eleven points in this event, where at least 13 with a possibility of 25 had been counted on.

Abrahams' ten points counted for England. His time was 10.35. Finland won two of the three heats in the 300 meters steeplechase, placing three men in the finals. The United States got two runners into the finals when Devanney finished second in the second heat, and Marvin Rick, second in the third.

R. Payne of Ohio State, who was expected to place well up in the heats, failed to qualify for the finals. He came in fifth in the first heat.

Cox Rushes To Gotham To Seek Break In Democratic Deadlock

UNITED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, NEW YORK, July 7.—James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee of four years ago, came to New York today to attempt to "harmonize the discordant forces of the convention."

Declaring that he would not accept the nomination of the convention if it were tendered to him, Cox stated that his only interest now is directed toward bringing the varying elements of the party together. He will not favor any special candidate, he said.

His statement follows: "I have come to New York at the urgent request of prominent members of the party who have expressed to me the belief that a trying emergency has arisen and that the offices of the titular leader of the Democracy should be extended

CONVENTION LEADERS PLAN RALSTON DRIVE AT EVENING SESSION

BY ROBERT J. BENDER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—A nomination for the presidency by the Democratic National convention appeared within the range of possibilities tonight when balloting will be resumed.

The convention recessed shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon after having taken its eighty-third ballot without result. The delegates will convene again at 8:30 tonight after a series of conferences between the leaders and there is high hope that a nominee will be chosen before another adjournment is taken.

The way was opened for the sliding of W. G. McAdoo out of the convention during the afternoon when the convention adopted the report of the conference peace committee which released, insofar as the convention is concerned, the delegates from all pledges and obligations to individual candidates.

McAdoo has refused to concur in such a recommendation but with its adoption the way was opened for swings away from the Californian as the action of the convention gives the delegates an alibi for use at home.

Samuel M. Ralston now appears as a strong possibility for the nomination.

Shortly after the convention recessed, representatives of a dozen delegations gathered in the suite of Tom Taggart at the Waldorf to discuss the possibility of concentrating on Ralston.

Pat Harrison of Mississippi is authority for the statement that representatives of eight delegations met this afternoon and decided on a Ralston "ride" tonight, providing everything goes according to program. The strategy now is to beat McAdoo below the 400 mark until he no longer controls a veto power in the convention.

Several conferences as to the maneuver in behalf of Ralston will be held between now and the time the convention reassembles.

Ralston is insistent that he be regarded as out of the convention. If the search of other delegations for a compromise candidate fails and he shows the silent strength that is claimed for him a display of this strength in balloting is practically certain to test out his general vote-gathering ability.

Still in Race. Backers of J. W. Davis, Senator Robinson, Senator Glass and Chairman Walsh consider these candidates still in the race, however. Some sharp skirmishes are likely tonight in the scramble for McAdoo delegates.

McAdoo led Smith by only 50 votes on the eighty-third ballot, polling only 418 to Smith's 368.

Kill Peace Agreement. The first action of the convention today in the order of regular business was to cast aside the peace agreement signed by all candidates except McAdoo to release their delegates from all pledges and obligations. A motion to refer the report of the peace committee to the committee of rules was voted down. Then the seventy-eighth roll call was started and it showed no material change from the last ballot taken on Saturday, though Virginia switched 10 of the votes it has been giving consistently to Glass from the favorite son to McAdoo.

After several previous attempts during last week, which were unsuccessful, the Canal Zone was finally able to break away from the unit rule on the seventy-ninth ballot today and cast three for Smith and three for McAdoo instead.

Craft Saved as Newport Waves Threaten Death

The "Rona," an auxiliary ketch, and three passengers on the little sailing vessel narrowly escaped destruction in the breakers at the inlet to Newport Bay Sunday. Antares Deraga and Nick Sam, volunteer life guards, brought the craft safely into the bay.

The "Rona" had been out a few hundred yards from shore and was returning under power from its small engine when the latter went "dead" in the breakers at the exact spot where a larger vessel was broken up a few Sundays ago and eight lives were lost.

Occupants of the "Rona" signalled for help and Deraga and Sam put out in a rowboat and to the distressed craft into the pulled against the bank and sounded my horn," Smedley explained, "but kept coming until he scraped my car, bending a fender and jamming the brake housing. He then drove away full speed."

Search was begun today by the sheriff's office to locate the unidentified motorist, charged with reckless driving in a complaint sworn to before Justice J. B. Cox by Smedley.

Thrown From Auto
A charge of reckless driving was also filed against Evaristo Diaz, by R. C. Kyle of Tustin, following a collision on Tustin avenue, Friday.

Alex Hernandez was thrown from his automobile and his right arm was sprained Saturday night when his car was struck by the automobile driven by O. J. Day near Westminster, where both motorists reside. Hernandez told deputies that Day had "cut in" too suddenly to prevent the cars crashing together.

Another Westminster accident occurred at 2:30 p. m. yesterday when Jake Price, driving north on the Huntington Beach highway stopped before making a left turn and his car was struck by the machine of James McMillen, approaching from the opposite direction, according to Price's report at the sheriff's office here. Both cars were damaged.

While a touring car was being towed by a service car at 1:30 p. m. yesterday on the San Diego highway, the passenger car ran over the tow-rope at the Irvine crossing and was pulled over onto its side at the sharp turn. When the car rolled over it jerked the service car into the ditch beside it. An ambulance was rushed from Santa Ana to the scene, but no one was injured except a man who was slightly cut about his face. The occupants of the cars were not known. No report of the accident was made to the police or sheriff here, it was said.

DOG SERVES 15-YR. TERM WITH WOMAN

KANSAS CITY, July 2.—Word that Aggie Myers, notorious Kansas City murderess, may gain her freedom soon brings out the strange tale of a prison dog, "Wiggles."

If Aggie leaves so will "Wiggles," and both will come back to live in the outside world from which they have been deprived for many years. Confined within the gray walls of the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City of 15 years, "Wiggles" probably has served a longer penitentiary term than any other dog in the United States. Never since he was brought here in infancy to act as a "mouse dog" in the women's quarters has "Wiggles" had any connection with the outside world.

He has been a prisoner like the human inmates, only his confinement has been a willing one, and he plays and waggles his tail as though he had all the freedom of his canine brothers and sisters who romp the streets and are unlimited in the space where they are permitted to travel.

During the many years that "Wiggles" has been here he has been a constant companion to Aggie Myers, who, like "Wiggles," holds a unique record in that she probably has served a longer prison term than any other woman in the country.

Aggie, who is 42 years old, has spent about 20 years of her life in confinement. Seventeen of these years were passed in the state penitentiary here, following conviction for murdering her husband, for which she received a death sentence, this being later commuted to a life sentence.

She takes her confinement with much more concern than does her dog companion. Embittered by her long confinement in the penitentiary, Aggie, figuratively speaking, says she had led a "dog's life."

"Wiggles" is all I have left," Aggie remarked when questioned about her possible release, "If I get out, of course, 'Wiggles' will go with me."

It has been known that Governor Hyde has had under consideration for some time a parole for Mrs. Myers.

CONVENTION VOTES TO IGNORE PLEDGES

stead of six for McAdoo. This was the only change of note on the seventy-ninth ballot.

List Increases

Instead of the race being narrowed to a smaller number of candidates, the list began to grow during the day. States that had switched their votes from favorite sons began to bring them back into the race. Both McAdoo and Smith showed a dropping off in votes as this occurred and the Californian registered only 432 on the eighty-first ballot against 365 for Smith. Oklahoma went back to Senator Owen, while Glass, Underwood, Robinson, Ritchie, Saulsbury and others still trailed along.

Ballots were cast for seventeen candidates on the eighty-first ballot.

During the eighty-second ballot, Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee; Tom Taggart and other leaders were conferring on the main floor.

Open Drive on McAdoo
At the same time a determined drive was being made on the various delegations on the floor. Some of the states carrying McAdoo votes sent representatives to the McAdoo leaders and asked them if they could not be nominated. Then their plan would be to have McAdoo name three or four men who would be acceptable to him. He then would be in a position where he could exercise his veto power and name the nominee, even though he might have to sacrifice the nomination himself. Mississippi switched her twenty votes to Senator Ralston on the eighty-second ballot, bringing him a total of 24 votes without Indiana, Ralston's own state.

McAdoo reached a low level when he struck 412½ on the eighty-second ballot. Smith showed that he still held a veto power if nothing else by polling 386.

KANSAS MAY PAY EX-KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 7.—A movement was under way here today to pay expenses of Kansas delegates attending the Democratic national convention at New York. Two subscriptions had been received. Initial donations will be telegraphed to the delegates tonight, former Postmaster A. G. Gillis, who started the movement, declared.

RALSTON FIRM AGAINST RE-ENTERING STRUGGLE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 7.—Senator Samuel Ralston today urged Thomas Taggart over long distance telephone not to present his name again before the Democratic convention as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Although Taggart indicated to Ralston that he could be the nominee of the convention, Ralston said there was nothing to cause him to change the attitude he has maintained since his formal withdrawal last Friday.

HAT STORE DUE TO REQUEST LENIENCE?

Glenn Churchill and O. C. Hardabeck will probably make application for probation when they appear before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams tomorrow for sentence on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The defendants themselves were authority for this statement today, although they were unable, they said, definitely to say that such would be their course.

Accused of misrepresentation in the sale of stock in a chain of hat stores, one of which was situated in Anaheim, Churchill and Hardabeck were convicted late Thursday at their third trial. The juries had disagreed at the first and second trials.

The conviction Thursday carried a recommendation from the jury for leniency in the case of Churchill. Judge Williams fixed the time for pronouncing sentence at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

ASK FIRE 'GUARDS' FOR VETS' HOME

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 7.—An urgent petition that the government authorities immediately take steps to install a modern sprinkler system at the Sawtelle soldiers' home, was forwarded to Washington by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The action of the Chamber board follows an investigation of the home and several other institutions here, conducted by the federal fire warden and a committee of fire prevention officials as a result of the recent holocaust at Del Rey in which twenty-four mentally deficient children lost their lives.

In its petition to Washington, the Chamber points out that the building which is now thirty-five years old, is a fire hazard and a menace to its more than 400 inmates, many of whom are bed-ridden, mainly through its obsolete wiring system which was installed in 1895. The home consists of nine three-story wooden buildings and is greatly overcrowded.

OLD RESIDENT OF WESTMINSTER DIES

WESTMINSTER, July 7.—After an illness of three weeks, E. C. Phelps, 86 years old, pioneer resident of Westminster, died at the Westminster hotel, of which he was owner, at an early hour this morning. At the bedside were his two sons, Herbert Phelps and Arthur Phelps of San Dimas.

Mr. Phelps came to Westminster 40 years ago and has been associated in the development of this district. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Rev. W. T. Wardle officiating. Interment will be in the Los Alamitos cemetery.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
As though at night on a great ocean liner, our soundings reveal the proximity of a mighty universe, no less real than that which is most familiar.
We steer our course toward
the harbor of our hopes and dreams and the first glimpse of dawn will find us in the haven
where we would be, with dear ones close once more.
PHELPS—At Westminster, July 7, 1924, Ethel C. Phelps, aged 55 years.
Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. from the Presbyterian church at Westminster.
Mr. Phelps had lived at Westminster for 40 years and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Adeline M. Phelps, and two sons, H. J. of La Verne, Calif., and A. G. of Cucamonga, Calif.

McHENRY—At Lawrence, Kansas,
January 21, 1924, Mrs. Margaret M.
McHenry, aged 93 years.
Funeral services under direction of Smith and Tuttle will be held Wednesday at the Santa Ana cemetery at 2:30 p. m. in the Rev. W. H.
McCluck officiating.
Mrs. McHenry was the widow of the late Rev. Dr. S. McHenry who died here in 1901, and is survived by a son, W. H. McHenry of Fresno and a daughter who is accompanying the body to this city.

ELLIOTT—In Santa Ana, July 6, 1924, Ethylene Elliott, infant daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Elliott of 411
West Culbert street.
Interment was made today at Ontario by Winbiger's.

EMA—In Santa Ana, July 6, 1924,
Charles Burt Ema, son of Mrs. Ema
Chris J. Ema of 825 South Garnsey street.
Interment was made this afternoon in Fairhaven cemetery from the Winbiger Mission Funeral home.

FUNERAL NOTICE
Funeral services for Cecil W. Wes-tering will be held Wednesday at 2
p. m. from Smith and Tuttle's chapel,
the Rev. W. E. Roberts officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

News Briefs

L. A. Schlesinger of this city, owner of the Red Lantern theater
at Brea, today was preparing to close his business activity in that city, following sale of his theater to W. W. Whitson, of San Diego.
Whitson will take charge Wednesday, Schlesinger said.

Henry Seba, Tustin avenue, Orange, was puzzled to know what was robbing his hens' nests. Finally this morning, his dog, snooping about a fern bed, came upon an opossum. Seba promptly transferred the animal to a gunny sack, brought him to town and gave him to a man with a taste for "possum pie."

Former residents of the six Atlantic coast states of Virginia,
North and South Carolina, Geo-gia, Maryland and Delaware, will join in a union picnic, all day Saturday, in Sycamore Grove park,
Los Angeles, with basket dinners at noon and basket suppers in the evening, it was announced here today.

For the purpose of discussing plans for several events for the summer months, the directors of the Orange County Riding club will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the Albion and Title Guaranty company, Fifth and Main streets, according to an announcement made today.

Beginning today, the dispatch of mail from the Santa Ana post office to Glorietta, Costa Mesa, Newport Beach, Balboa and Huntington Beach, by Crown Stage will be made at 3 o'clock instead of at 4 o'clock. This change in dispatch gives Santa Ana afternoon mail
for Huntington Beach an opportunity to reach there and be distributed the same afternoon it is sent. The 4 o'clock mail from Santa Ana via Balboa and the P.
E. to Huntington Beach did not reach Huntington Beach until after the post office closed.

Fire of mysterious origin late yesterday destroyed the E. N. Hurd laundry at Delbi. The proprietor and his family were absent at the time. Neighbors were said to have noticed the fire when the flames broke out through the kitchen. The laundry had patrons in Newport Beach and Santa Ana. So far as could be learned here today, no clothes were in the laundry at the time of the fire. It was understood that Hurd recently suffered loss by the burning of a building adjoining that destroyed yesterday.

C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, was today preparing to leave tomorrow with his family
for a two weeks' motor jaunt
through Northern California.
Deputy County Clerk Mel Head
and Mrs. Head are spending a vacation with relatives in Inyo county, where they expect to remain

F. C. Drumm, of Orange, judge of the superior court here, is taking his vacation this month, expecting to return to the bench about August 1.

Justice J. B. Cox returned to his court today after a few days' rest.

Miss Ora Pringle, 601 West Second street, today received a telegram advising her of the death of her brother, Dr. J. E. Pringle of Springfield, Mo. Dr. Pringle leaves, in addition to Miss Pringle, two other sisters, Mrs. J. E. Bird, 806 North Broadway, Santa Ana, and Mrs. J. R. Cutler, of Visalia, and two nieces, Mrs. E. B. Covington, 1206 North Broadway, and Mrs.
Elizabeth Shipley 806 North Broadway, both of this city.

Drs. J. R. Wilcox and Roy S.
Horton, optometrists, left here today for Pasadena, where they will attend the annual meeting of the California State Association of Optometrists, which convened in that city early today. The convention will meet until late Wednesday.
Other Orange county optometrists
who left for the convention today
were G. L. McClelland, Fullerton, G. L. Dietrick, Fullerton, and W. R.
Blakely, Anaheim. More than 1,

Students Mourn
Death of Local Athlete at H. S.

Funeral services for Cecil Westering, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs.
William Westering, 419 West Walnut street, who died at the home of his parents at 1:30 p. m.
Friday, will be held from the Smith & Tuttle chapel, at 3:30
p. m. Wednesday, according to an announcement made today.
The Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate, and burial will take place in Fairhaven cemetery.
Young Westering's death came as an almost complete surprise to his many school friends in the city. He was ill less than a week, a case of tonsillitis that developed into pneumonia causing his death. He was popular in high school circles, where he made friends rapidly. He was an athlete and was expected to be a member of the 1924 high school football team. He was a member of the Delta Sigma fraternity of Santa Ana.
Cecil Westering was a native of Hastings, Neb., and moved to Santa Ana with his family about six months ago. At the time of his death his father was visiting in Hastings, returning to Santa Ana yesterday to attend the funeral. Besides his father and mother, the boy is survived by a brother, Kenneth, and two sisters, Helen and Blanch. The former is expected to arrive here today

LIZZIE'S HOOD PURLOINED
"Some nifty cuss stole the hood from the engine of my tin Lizzie while it was parked at 1416 North Broadway last night,"
H. R. Griffith of 209 West Highland street told the police today.
The officers have no clues.

GERMAN POLICE DOG DRAWS ATTENTION AT LAGUNA BEACH; CHALLENGES ORDINARY CURS

LAGUNA BEACH, July 7.—It is a well known fact that actors are more or less temperamental, but when they reach undisputed "stardom" some of them even pick their own directors. This is the case of a well known screen actor who was a visitor at Laguna Beach over the holidays. He absolutely refuses to mind the director picked out for him at Warner Brothers studio, ignoring him completely.

This actor is the famous Rin Tin Tin, German Police dog, owned by Lee Duncan. His director in the latest production "Find Your Man" is Mr. Mel St. Clair of Hollywood, who has been spending the week at Laguna Beach with his wife.

Rin Tin Tin was first discovered in the trenches at the world war. He was brought to America by Duncan and trained by him. Rin Tin Tin will take orders only from

Duncan in his acting and St. Clair in speaking of the dog said "It is almost uncanny the way he takes orders from his master, his intelligence is keen and his endurance wonderful."

Rin Tin Tin, securely leashed and kept in a screen-bodied truck, challenged every passing dog regardless of color, breed and size, to fight. A watchful groom had to keep a steady hand on the leash to keep the hero of many silver-sheet battles from being mixed up in a common street brawl with an ordinary yellow cur.

Mr. St. Clair is just finishing "Find Your Man" starring Rin Tin Tin, and as he is an old timer at Laguna Beach, and at one time a student at Laguna Beach school, it is not to be wondered at that he should pick this beach for filming the picture.

WOMEN MEMBERS TO GET 'Y' CARDS

Membership tickets for women members of the Y. M. C. A. have been received and will be distributed to some 150 members tomorrow, according to an announcement made today by Ralph C. Smedley, secretary, who stated that he expected tomorrow to be the best attended "women's day", since the women's department was organized.

Due to the fact that swimming suits for women have not arrived from the pool will not be used. Women members tomorrow will be given a full day is ahead for gymnasium classes, the schedule for which is as follows: girls, 11 to 14, 9:15 a. m. to 10 a. m.; girls, 14 to 17, 10:15 a. m. to 11 a. m.; women, under 30, 2:30 p. m. to 3:15 p. m.; women, over 30, 3:15 p. m. to 4 p. m.; classes for weight correction, 4:15 p. m. to 5 p. m.; business women, 7:30 p. m. to 8:15 p. m.

Dinner will be served for women members at 6:15 p. m. in the dining rooms. Reservations should be made late today, according to Smedley.

UTILIZE SUNLIGHT FOR HEATING ROOTS

"The propagation of plants by the use of cuttings is one of the oldest methods known," a department of agriculture report says, "and until recently it was considered necessary for the best results, that the rooting work should be carried on in a well-equipped greenhouse using steam coils to supply bottom heat."

"The lack of such equipment, however, and the expense of providing it have been serious objections to any widespread use of vegetative propagation except with plants easily rooted out of doors.

"This has been overcome to a considerable extent by the development by the department of a propagating frame which uses sunlight as a source of bottom heat. It has been found to give excellent results with the plants experimented with, including most of the standard citrus root stocks as well as the newer hybrids.

"The method and the experimental results are described in Department Circular 310, 'The Solar Propagating Frame for Rooting Citrus and Other Subtropical Plants,' just issued. The construction of the frame is simple and the method is economical and offers considerable promise for other groups of plants, especially of subtropical character. The use of the solar rooting frame is obviously best adapted to the warmer portions of the country having a relatively large amount of sunshine."

446 BECOME DAIRY OWNERS IN 4 YEARS

One farmer shipping cream represented the extent of dairying in Tipton county, Tennessee, in 1920. At the end of 1923, there were more than 446 farmers in the county shipping cream from some 3000 cows, receiving for the year's production, according to reports sent to the United States department of agriculture, more than $250,000.

A good nearby market for cream was found when it was learned that the county was well adapted to growing dairy feeds. Pastures have been established, leguminous hay grown, proper feeding methods for milk production learned, and cream shipping developed as a supplementary cash enterprise. Only cows already owned in the county have been used, and only those farmers making sufficient provision on their own farm for feeds have been encouraged to take up dairying.

As these cotton farmers develop skill in feeding and management, the production of the herds is being built up through the introduction into the county of purebred bulls of high production lines. Seven of these purebred bulls were brought in for co-operative use last year and several have been bought by individuals.

PIGEONS SNORE.

DETROIT, July 7.—Pigeons "snoring" on the roof of his house kept Albert Swatek awake at night. But Swatek hurried to the scene and thought of a better way to keep the neighbors awake by shooting at the pigeons from his bedroom window.

500 Days Given 'Distiller' As Stock Is Raided

A brief career as a distiller landed A. Miller, 26, Long Beach oil worker, in the county jail today for a "stretch" of 500 days. Miller's sentence was the alternative to a $500 fine, which he was unable to pay.

Appearing before Justice J. B. Cox on a charge of having liquor in his possession, Miller admitted that when he looked over the business field for a location, he decided upon Orange county and left Long Beach to locate near Santa Ana.

He had been established but a short time before Sheriff Sam Jernigan's aides ferreted him out and halted his operations Saturday. A still and three barrels of mash, with four gallons of liquor, were found, the officers said, at Miller's location, West First street and Garden Grove road.

ASK REPORT ON NEW ROUMANIA OIL LAW

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, July 7.—The American minister to Roumania, Peter Augustus Jay, has been ordered to return to the United States to report to the state department on the new Roumanian oil law against which this country has strenuously protested, it was learned at the state department today.

Jay, strictly speaking, is not being recalled, and it is presumed he will return to his post after conferences here. It is the understanding that this government will take no further action regarding the oil law question, until Jay makes his report.

Take Movie Trio In Liquor Case; Conscience Hurts

A guilty conscience on the part of three men who said they were motion picture actors employed at Hollywood resulted in the arrest of the three at Fullerton over the week-end on a charge of possessing and transporting intoxicating liquor, according to a report on file today at the police station in Fullerton.

The three gave their names, and Los Angeles addresses as Charles J. Parrott, 2157 Highland avenue; Lige Connelly, 1010 1/2 North Serrano avenue; Harry Bowen, Woodward hotel. They put up $100 bail each for their appearance before Judge Hart at Fullerton, July 17.

Officers Rudy and Martin of the Fullerton traffic squad were on duty late at night at the corner of Spadra road and Commonwealth avenue, according to the police report, and when the car containing the three attempted to rush out of the line of traffic and cut-in, the officers yelled at the driver to get back in place. Instead of obeying, the driver stopped the car and the three submitted to search. Police said they found a quantity of high powered liquor.

SLEMP RETURNS TO WHITE HOUSE POST

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, July 7.—C. Basom Slemple, secretary to President Coolidge, returned to his desk today after an absence of three weeks.

"I am back on the job," he said, dispelling rumors that he had quit permanently over a disagreement between himself and William M. Butler, Republican national committee chairman, over the management of the Cleveland convention.

Slemple immediately went to the Walter Reid hospital to be with the President at the bedside of Calvin Jr.

Meals served in the House of Commons bring the British government considerable revenue.

Would not be my page, should it not have a line or so about the scarfs I see in my wanderings. They take on new airs every day. We all know that moths do not like printer's ink, and woolens packed in newspapers and camphor are generally secure. But I find, in closing up packages, that pins sometimes tear the paper. So I get either a box of gummed labels on which I write the contents of each package, or a spool of the gummed, packaged tape with which the shops often tie their packages, instead of using string. Either proves very efficient for this purpose.

White silk stockings: White silk stockings grow yellow and soiled-looking even with the most careful washing, and if kept from summer to summer, are unsightly. I buy a good quality of white silk stockings and wash them carefully in lukewarm water and soap. Then, in the fall, I gather them all together and dye them in a good dye for winter use.

Bathing suits and beach costumes trip a gay and fantastic step on summer sands. What with chintz, printed crepe, printed rubber, gingham, tartan plaids and hand painted effects the plain satin or taffeta suit comes as a solace to rest one's eye. Indeed, even a black satin suit takes liberties at Franklin Simon, using gay Roman striped borders. Another resorts to a decorative treatment of white and black oilcloth, applied in a Chinese script design. Still another prefers a grape chintz motif to brighten its somber background, the chintz fabricating the entire cape that completes the composite costume.

New flannel dresses button all the way up the front or develop a jacket and skirt idea in a one-piece, sleeveless model. For active sports comes a golf blazer blouse striped in vivid colors and banded in white. Cashmere flannel suits consist of a plaid coat widely belted in leather, accompanying a plain skirt. Drurylaine also makes smart sports frocks.

In cooler dresses silk broadcloth, striped or plain, then trimmed in colored or white rick-rack braid, scores honors. Crepe silks, washable challis, cotton crepes and voiles are good. Bouclette places knitwear in its former high place. It is developed in dresses, ensemble costumes, sweaters, scarfs and long slim coats.

Juice is often left over from fresh or canned berries. Add gelatine to it in the proportion of one level tablespoonful of gelatine to one pint of liquid. First soak gelatine in one-fourth cupful cold juice, then add one and three-fourths cupful hot juice; turn into a wet mold, chill and use as a dessert or salad. When fruit juices do not sell in making jellies, reheat juice and add gelatine that has been soaked in a little cold water in the same proportion as above.

When cleaning silver, either plated or sterling, apply the silver polish, then clean the silver with soft crepe paper napkins. The result is remarkable. Glasses and all crystal ware can be polished into brilliancy with a few rubs from the paper napkins, after being dried with a cloth.

Fruit juices may be canned or bottled when left over, without sugar, and used later as needed by combining with gelatine. Left over fruit juices may also be used in lemonades.

There is a whisper in the wind that rose beige stockings—though still fashionable it must be acknowledged—may be supplanted by gray tones with the more exclusive set. Gray undoubtedly is gaining ground, some of the new shades being vapor, pearl, rain, cloud, storm, platinum and gun metal.

Strangely enough, at Palm Beach this winter the nude stocking alone was worn with white shoes, and promised to be the vogue for summer. Franklin Simon now assures us that white stockings are the thing with white shoes. Moreover, Paris cables "white stockings with black footwear" as well.

Wide leather belts are exceedingly smart for sports. The square crowned, short brimmed hat, slightly turned up to one side, intrudes upon the millinery field. Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Gayeties Continue In Honor of Betrothal Lately Announced

One of the much-feted engaged girls of the community is Miss Dorcas Jaques of Anaheim, whose engagement to Worth Alexander of this city is arousing all the hospitable instincts of a host of friends of the young people. One of the most recent courtesies extended the bride-elect was a miscellaneous shower which Mrs. E. J. Martin and Mrs. John McCune gave late last week at the Martin home, 807 Richmond avenue.

Amidst a wealth of vivid dahlias the two young matrons (who are sisters-in-law) received their guests. After a pleasant interval of chat and music, Mrs. Fern Hill, two-year-old cousin of Mrs. Martin, dressed as a little Kewpie, entered with a blue garlanded basket which she presented Miss Jaques. In the basket the honored guest found an array of dainty gifts in a wide variety.

Ice cream, cake and punch offered refreshment at the tea hour. Guests of Mrs. Martin and Mrs. McCune included in addition to the honoree, Miss Jaques, her mother and sisters, Mrs. Mary Jaques, Miss Foster Jaques and Miss Irene Jaques of Anaheim; Mr. Alexander's mother, Mrs. James E. Alexander, Mrs. J. W. Martin, Mrs. L. A. Hill, Mrs. Eldon Butler of Garden Grove, Mrs. Gordon Gibb of Honolulu, Mrs. James Russell, Mrs. Richard Metz, Mrs. Ernest Young, Mrs. Roy Harrison and Miss Margaret Martin.

To Enjoy Outing At Pine Crest

Leaving today for Pasadena where he will attend the state optometrists' convention, Dr. K. A. Loerch will remain for the different sessions and then join Mrs. Loerch and their children, Miss Esther and Alfred at Pine Crest where the remainder of July will be spent.

Alfred Loerch was seriously ill for many weeks with typhoid fever and it is thought the mountain air will aid in a more rapid recovery of his health. After the period at Pine Crest, Dr. and Mrs. Loerch and their family will spend some time in San Diego ere returning to their home at 310 Orange avenue when Dr. Loerch will resume his practice.

Santa Ana Boy Who Has Entered Law Firm In This City

MILBURN G. HARVEY

Announcement has been made that Milburn G. Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harvey of this city has entered into a co-partnership with his father to practice law in this city. Young Harvey is a graduate of the local grammar and high schools and in June of this year finished the regular law course at the University of California. Before going to U. C. he took a pre-law course at Stanford University. In March, this year, he was admitted to the California bar. For about six months he has been connected with the law office of Paul W. Schenck, noted criminal attorney of Los Angeles.

In the co-partnership of Harvey and Harvey, as the local law firm will now be known, Mr. Harvey Jr. will conduct a general practice while Mr. Harvey Sr. will devote his time to corporation and probate work. Their offices are at Suite 203, Walter L. Moore building.

Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated With Gay Little Dinner

One of last week's pleasant events was the celebration of a wedding anniversary when Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoff were made guests of honor at an attractively appointed little dinner at Colonial Club.

Mrs. Hoff was Miss Sarah A. Gardner and the wedding was charming one beneath the St. Cecilia window of Glenwood Mission Inn chapel on July 3, 1923. A few of the Santa Ana guests at the wedding were numbered in the small party of diners who reminded Mr. and Mrs. Hoff of their wedding and the dinner which followed in the Inn parlors.

One long table at Colonial club was arranged with sprays of smilax and pink candles in quaint old brass candelabra while other harmonious appointments included the hand-painted place cards, golden "honeymoons" peeped through sprays of graceful wisteria.

Covers were placed for the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hoff, their best man and matron of honor on the occasion of their wedding, Don L. Miniken and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Miss Margaret King, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olivarri and Alfred P. Perkins.

Following the dinner all returned to the Hoff home on West Washington street where a pleasant hour was spent ere the party broke up, some of the members going to Newport as guests of the Olivarri, to enjoy dancing.

Shiloh Circle

Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet at G. A. R. hall next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for an interesting session.

CAL. HAS MOST CARS ENTERING YELLOWSTONE

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., July 7.—Yellowstone park's tremendous growth in popular favor as a vacation resort is significantly revealed in statistics showing that for the month of June, just ended, a total of 20,328 visitors crossed the four boundaries of this scenic wonderland. This is an increase of more than 45 per cent over June, 1923, when the whole number of visitors entertained was 14,466.

In spite of the fact that California has four national parks of its own, that state led in the number of automobile travelers entering the Yellowstone up to July 1. A total of 688 California cars were issued permits at the four park entrances. They carried 1978 passengers. These had to come a thousand miles or more, whereas the visitors from the second state in line, Montana, had comparatively short distances to cover. This is evidence of the great popularity of the Yellowstone, based on the variety of the scenic marvels it contains.

None from Georgia
Montana, the second state, sent 644 automobiles, carrying 1952 passengers. These two states were far in the lead, the third one, Washington, contributing 278 cars and 875 passengers to the great motor cavalcade. Idaho came fourth, with 252 cars, 815 persons; Wyoming, fifty, 212 cars, 673 visitors; Utah six, 208 cars, 636.

From there the states ranged down with only one, Georgia, unrepresented by motor tourists. There were some Georgians, however, among the train tourists.

Delaware had two automobiles among the June visitors. This is the first time in three seasons, at least that Delaware has sent motor tourists to the Yellowstone as not a single Delaware car passed through last season or the one before.

Canada has been represented thus far by 27 auto parties, totaling 100 persons. Hawaii already has sent one car with two passengers.

Automobile permits issued this June numbered 4593. This great motor caravan, in which hardly a state of the Union was unrepresented, poured into the park's four gates, carrying a total of 14,470 visitors. Last June, the automobile permits total 2944, and they brought in 9,508 persons. This June the visitors coming in via "hired transportation," that is, train passengers, numbered 5574, while last year they were 4784.

West Gateway Leads
The western gateway, at West Yellowstone, received more of the month's total of visitors than any of the other three entrances, taking away from Gardiner or North Gate, this distinction, which Gardiner held last June.

At West Yellowstone, 3213 visitors came in, 4829 of them in their own conveyances and 3384 by train. Gardiner gateway, where the great arch stands, was second with 7111. Of these 5593 were in their own vehicles, and 1528 came by train.

The Cody entrance on the east attracted 4924, of whom 3378 motored in, and 651 were railroad passengers. At the Snake River or south gate, 980 passed through, 969 of them making their own way, while 11 were train passengers from Lander, Wyoming.

At each gate a large increase in the amount of motor travel was registered. From West Yellowstone, 1601 motor vehicles started their park tour this June, against 751 last June. The shadow of the Gardiner arch fell on 1797 autos and motorcycles this June, while last year the total for that month was 1282. Wending their way through gorgeous Shoshone canyon, 1069

Fashion Notes

Who is not interested in the ne-gligee?

In spite of the tailored mode for outerwear, this garment still remains the most delightfully feminine of costumes. And the most luxurious garments retain, each, a charm and individuality that makes them rivals of the dress. This rivalry, keener than generally supposed, has made itself evidenced in the appearance of negligees at dinner functions. A very few women are in on the secret of making the negligee do dinner-time duty. The curious thing about it is that the process is purely a psychological one.

Take, for instance, a yellow chiffon, knife pleated in its entire length, and attached at the top to a square yoke of rare lace, dyed yellow and with a narrow gold ribbon clasped loosely about the waist. If this garment is put on over a gold colored slip, with the proper accessories of costume jewelry, if the hair is arranged formally, and a large feather fan added to the ensemble, the effect of a dinner gown is complete. Many of New York's smartest women who know all there is to be known about clothes achieve this little trick many times in a season.

The reason?
Well, negligees are not so expensive as dresses.
Then there are the wonderful velvet negligees, hand painted by a process known only in Italy. Who would suppose that some of the exquisite evening wraps seen after the theater and opera were once displayed as negligees? A fur collar effects this transformation.

NOBODY IN FAMILY WANTS GIRL BABY

NEW YORK, July 2.—Mary Davis, pretty and very apprehensive for a miss hardly 4 weeks old, is making herself as happy as an unwanted baby may in a crib in Bellevue hospital while the police look for her father.

Mary has a father—looked upon as a hero in the days when khaki was the fashion—when khaki was the fashion. The War Veterans' bureau catalogues him as Carlyle Davis, 2478 Eighth avenue, New York City, drawing from the government $145 monthly for disability.

She has a mother, who before her marriage was named Mary Hoar, and a grandfather named Peter Hoar, who still lives at the Eighth avenue address.

Nobody Wants Her
And she has a very well-to-do grandmother, named Mrs. A. L. Parkes, and a step-grandfather named Jeremiah Parkes, head of the Parkes File Works of Newark, who live at 44 Van Houten place, Belleville, N. J.

But nobody seems to want Mary. The fact that she now has shelter is due to the police of New York City and the attentiveness of Mr. Bauer of the department of public welfare.

A short time ago Carlyle Davis and his young wife proposed that the Parkes take the new baby. Davis's mother and his step-father refused.

Then Mrs. Bert I. Woodhall, a neighbor of the Parkes, found the wailing little bundle, none too well wrapped, on the Parke's veranda.

Leaves Child on Bed
Mr. and Mrs. Parkes dressed little Mary and set out together for New York, determined to find its parents if possible; at any rate to be rid of her.

Gamma Phi Beta Maid Attends Wedding of Sorority Sister

Miss Waive Kingrey who is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Kingrey, 801 South Birch street, after her winter's studies at Stanford, arrived just in time to assist at the wedding of one of her sorority sisters (Gamma Phi Beta) Miss Suzanne Victoria Gumbly and Irving Gilbert Satrang, which was an event of late June at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith of Los Angeles.

Miss Kingrey and Miss Doris Anderson motored home together and were joined by Miss Mary Muir Jameson of Santa Monica, all three being members of the bride's sorority and aiding in various pleasant hostess duties connected with the wedding which was a smart morning affair. The bride wore her traveling costume, a stunning creation of bronze green crepe, ruffled with French embroidery, Kolinsky collar and cuffs and a smart hat of the same far completed the toilet whose effectiveness was heightened by the bride's bouquet of orchids showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Kingrey who was a house guest of the Smiths for the wedding, wore a dainty little chiffon frock as did the other members of the sorority group who aided in serving the wedding breakfast.

Marriage vows were taken before the Rev. Peter Skartzedt of Port Biele, Wash., who came from his northern home especially to officiate as he did at the marriage of Mr. Satrang's parents a number of years ago. Mr. Satrang is a graduate of the University of California, Southern Branch, and is an Alpha Phi. He was attended by Ralph G. Plummer as best man. His bride just graduated from Stanford.

Following an extended wedding trip to include the Yosemite, Mr. and Mrs. Satrang will make their home in Los Angeles.

Damascus Shrine

At the first official meeting of the recently launched White Shrine of Jerusalem in Masonic temple Saturday night, honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wisner of Hollywood. Mr. Wisner is past supreme watchman of the shepherds while Mrs. Wisner is supreme queen. Both were united in declaring the local chapter to be one of the most interesting they had attended, and Mrs. Wisner complimented the leader, Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg and her staff of officers on their work by saying it was the best presented for an opening night, of any chapter she had ever visited.

W. C. T. U.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the W. C. T. U. will hold an outdoor meeting at Birch park where anti-narcotics will be the theme of the program. Essays on that subject, written by sixth and seventh grade pupils will form a part of the program together with special music and devotionals led by Mrs. Law.

Summer Home-coming Of Many Members Of Visel Family

Edward Power who has been enjoying a three weeks' vacation here with his wife and baby son at the home of Mrs. Powers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Visel, 1120 Bush street, left today for his home in San Francisco, leaving Mrs. Power and small son, James Visel Power, for a more extended visit which will continue at least through the remainder of July.

During Mr. Power's visit his brother, Henry Power together with Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Seabrook and Miss Eileen Mason of Los Angeles were entertained at a house-party at the Visel cottage at Balboa Beach where many pleasant affairs have brightened the summer. Friends of the family are anticipating the early arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Visel of New York City. Mrs. Visel and children are now in Torrance with her mother, Mrs. Post and expect Mr. Visel to join them July 20 when they will all be Santa Ana guests.

Eastern Guest Receives Honors

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bermann of 410 Second street, are entertaining for a few days, Mr. Charles E. Thompson, an old friend and neighbor from Cortland, N. Y. Mr. Thompson has recently attended the supreme council of the Order of the Amaranth at Portland, Ore., where he was honored by being elected supreme associate patron of the order. This being his first visit to the coast he is much interested in California's climate and resources as compared with those of central New York.

Simplicity Plus Style

What could be more simple, or more French, or more fascinating than this two-piece outfit of beige rep with a red ribbon tie and buttons of bright red? There is a casualness about the ensemble that is one of the most difficult effects to achieve and hence is more desired than the utmost elaboration. This is what Paris is advocating for fall and winter.

Missionary Society

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church together with the Ladies' Aid society will enjoy an all-day gathering at Newport Beach Wednesday when Mrs. P. A. Robinson has proffered the hospitality of her cottage to the combined societies.

Each person planning to attend has been requested to take her own sandwiches and table service together with one prepared dish. Dinner will be at mid-day and in the afternoon a business meeting will be followed by the enjoyment of the usual beach pleasures.

CONGRESSMAN SWING HERE TO LEARN FRUIT SITUATION AS CAMPAIGN VIGOR SHOWN

With the arrival of Congressman Phil D. Swing in Orange county today, his campaign for re-election already well under way, took on renewed vigor and aggressiveness. "I am here to lay the contest before the people of Orange county," declared the congressman. "It is a public officer's duty to make an accounting, and I am here for that purpose. More than that, looking to the future, I am here to tell you where I stand on the questions of consequence to this county and this district."

Swing's principal address in this county will be made tomorrow night at Birch Park following the concert to be given by the Santa Ana Municipal band. He is to be introduced by L. A. West, president of the Santa Ana Swing-for-Congress club.

Arriving in this county early today from San Bernardino, where he had spent Sunday with his mother, the congressman stopped at Olive for a few minutes, then proceeded to the lemon packing house of the Central Lemon Growers' association at Villa Park. He said that he desired to continue to keep in close touch with the citrus situation, and for that purpose he visited the lemon packing house and this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock

he is meeting with the directors of the Orange County Fruit exchange at Orange. Swing said that he feels that it is a congressman's duty to stand guard at Washington against any effort that may be undertaken by importers and representatives of foreign producers of oranges and lemons.

"I stand today," Swing added, "looking forward to the completion of the fight for the Boulder dam." Swing reviewed points in his platform, issued on his arrival at El Centro from Washington three weeks ago. He declared himself as supporting the Republican ticket, as pledging himself to work with the Republican party in congress on all fundamental Republican principles, as a believer in tax reduction, as standing firmly in favor of controlling the border against border evils, as favorable to the Volstead act and its enforcement, and as strongly in favor of protection for California products.

Swing is to speak at an open meeting of the Kiwanis club at Anaheim tomorrow. Tomorrow evening he will address the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Ketter's cafe, in Santa Ana, and tomorrow night at 9 o'clock he will speak at Birch Park.

JUDGE RESIGNS CITY PLACE AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, July 7.—Judge Bryon Hall, for seven years city recorder of Newport Beach, has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees with the request that he be relieved immediately from duty. Hall, who is past all his time to his private business. His resignation will be acted upon by the trustees at the meeting tonight.

Judge Hall, some months ago, became associated with C. S. Hemstreet in the manufacture and sale of a patent remedy for rheumatism. The growth of this business has been of such proportions that he declares he must devote all of his time to it. Hemstreet takes care of the manufacturing end of the remedy and Judge Hall directs the sales end.

It is estimated that 2000 persons have faced Judge Hall since he took office and in that time has brought into the city coffers approximately $50,000 in fines.

Mayor George P. Wilson declared today that the trustees would accept the resignation of Judge Hall "with regrets."

Several applications have been made for the position of police judge, but Mayor Wilson declares that he does not consider any one of them as likely to get it. The trustees may appoint the new judge and city recorder at tonight's session.

S. A. Woman As H. Lloyd Baby Nurse Gets Gift

"To Quessie from Mildred Gloria Lloyd, May, 1924."

"Quessie" is Miss Quessie Miller, trained nurse, now of Los Angeles, formerly of Santa Ana, a graduate of Santa Ana high school.

"Mildred Gloria" is the wee daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lloyd, movie folk of Hollywood.

The inscription appears upon a beautiful wrist watch.

Mildred Gloria arrived in this world six weeks ago. Miss Miller has been in charge of the babe since the minute of its birth, and is authority for the statement that Mildred Gloria is the sweetest baby alive, and that no parents could be happier together over the arrival of a baby in the household than are the two popular motion picture persons.

Miss Miller was in Santa Ana yesterday for a few hours visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Julia H. Deakin, 1059 West Second street.

Take S. A. Jellies To Camp Kearney

Dozens of jars of jams and fruit and dozens of glasses of jelly, together with dozens of small pillows, were included in a load of articles sent from Santa Ana to Camp Kearney on the Fourth of July.

The articles had been gathered during the recent drive conducted by local soldier welfare organizations, and in addition quite a number of small pillows made by the auxiliary of the American Legion were sent. Word received from the hospital was to the effect that an unlimited number of these small pillows could be used.

The articles were taken to Camp Kearney in a truck loaned by Henry Seidel.

ORDERS CO. 'F' TO PREPARE FOR CAMP

Instructions have been issued to members of Company "F", Santa Ana's national guard unit, to get everything ready for the two weeks' outing at Del Monte beginning August 2, according to a statement made today by Captain Harry Prichard, local company commander.

Military maneuvers and target and other practice will make up the program of the two weeks' outing for the 160th infantry, composed of national guard organizations chiefly from Los Angeles county. Company "F" is the only company from Orange county.

For Company "F" are expected to go all of the eighty-two members of the outfit, according to Captain Prichard, who stated that the company was making an effort at this time to recruit the company up to full strength.

which would give it ninety-two members. Uniforms have recently been received for new members, and Captain Prichard said that all men desiring to enlist should do so immediately. He added that enlistments for the company for the summer would be halted July 10.

Other officers who will be in charge of Company "F" for the encampment are Lieutenants D. L. Wyman and C. J. Waters.

At the encampment will be nineteen units in the regiment and three battalions. Each of the battalions are composed of three

Word From The Nickey En Route

In a letter from F. P. Nickey to the Editor of The Register, written in Cleveland, Ohio, June 29, the veteran hardware merchant says:

"Enclosed address may furnish you some material pertaining to conservation in which you are so much interested and in which all California citizens should be interested."

"We are having a delightful trip and will continue eastward from here at least as far as Toronto."

rifle companies, one machine gun company and one battalion headquarters company. The other units consist of the regimental headquarters company, service company, howitzer company and medical company.

Colonel Walter P. Story of Los Angeles will have charge of the regiment, and according to a statement received today from Los Angeles, he predicts a new record for attendance, training and equipment will be established at the camp.

The Santa Ana company will form a part of the second battalion of the 160th infantry.

WATER DEARTH LIMITATIONS DECIDED ON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The informal complaint division of the railroad commission has been deluged with letters, telegrams and telephone calls during the last few weeks from water users throughout the state, regarding the shortage of water.

The commission is fully alive to the situation existing in the state this year on account of the emergency presented due to the lack of rainfall, and everything is being done to render assistance where possible.

For instance, where a town is supplied by two or more domestic water companies and one water company is being harder hit by lack of water than the other company, arrangements have been made through informal negotiations by the commission's representatives whereby the first company mentioned is assisted by the other company.

In other cases, it has been necessary to permit the utility to place limitations on the use of water, cutting down the hours whereby water is permitted to be used for garden irrigation. In some instances it has been necessary to discontinue garden irrigation altogether and to limit the supply to domestic uses only.

Roast beef and other meats are cooked evenly in the Florence oven, as the heat is distributed uniformly

Why should a woman spend summer days in a sizzling kitchen?

DON'T let your wife keep a stove going in hot weather, except when she is cooking. It is a needless hardship and a useless expense. You can prove this at a nearby store.

The Florence Oil Range gives intense heat close up under the cooking.

The heat does not go into the metal of the stove or out into the room. Every dish for the biggest dinner can be cooked quickly and well.

The Big Burner
The heat in the Florence burners is close up under the cooking where it is not wasted.

Does not burn from a wick

To start the Florence, you merely touch a match to the Asbestos Kindler. You can regulate the clean blue flame to any degree of heat. The flame is a gas flame. It does not burn from a wick. The vapor from kerosene is what burns.

Take a look at it

You will find the Florence a beauty, with its sparkling enamel and nickel trimmings. Examine it closely, and you will appreciate many exclusive features, the portable oven with the "baker's arch" and patented heat-distributor to assure even cooking; and the Florence Leveler attached to each leg so as to set the stove level on an uneven floor.

Don't buy just "an oil stove" until you have seen how the Florence works. Try one yourself right at the store. (Department, furniture, or hardware store.) The man at the store will show you how easy it is to operate.

Florence Leveler
Attached to each leg of the stove, this device enables you to set the stove level on an uneven floor.

PAY $850 FOR LETTER
BERLIN, July 7.—An autograph sale at Henrich's sale rooms here recently drew high prices. The biggest bid was for a letter from Martin Luther, which brought more than $850. An original score of Haydn, numbering 41 pages, went for $500. Two letters of Goethe were knocked down at $210 and $200.

NO SECRET MARRIAGES
TIFFIN, O., July 7.—Secret marriages have meant the loss of a degree to one student and credit to two others at Heidelberg University. Under a college rule, marriage is forbidden to students under a penalty of dismissal. One of the students was dropped from the list of graduates when his wedding to a Tiffin school teacher was announced.

NO WEDDING DICTATION

When Bobbed Haired Young Women Do Work Well No
Ban Needed, Theory

Dress neatly—
This unwritten axiom is as far as Santa Ana bank officials will attempt to go in regulating the habitment of its women employees, a poll
of the institutions disclosed to-day.

Bobbed hair? Certainly.
"Loud" colors? Yes.
Short sleeves? No rule against them.

The banks, it became known, operate on the theory that a girl who is capable of holding her own with intricate problems of interest and finance is intellectual enough to know what is becoming to her and what is in keeping with the importance of her position.

L. A. Bank Edict Told.
Not a Santa Ana bank, it was disclosed, has adopted any such
or regulations such as those said
to have been handed down the other day to women employees of the Pacific Southwest bank, Los Angeles.

This bank, according to newspaper reports, decreed that the use of paint and powder and the wearing of sleeveless dresses, tight skirts, "loud" colors and bobbed
hair without nets, must cease.

Furthermore, it was understood,
the Pacific Southwest bank of Los Angeles, announced that hereafter girl employees must resign at the time of their marriage.

"Our women employees can wear
what they think best and get married if they wish," W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank,
here, said. "We have never attempted to dictate or even regulate what our girls shall wear. We have confidence that they will dress neatly and nicely. If they do their work well we feel that we can ask no more. Furthermore, I believe that we have the best looking force of women employees in the city."

All But One Head Bobbed.

Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants' Savings bank, agreed in every way with the ideas of Williams, except that he argued the girls working in his bank were the prettiest. No regulations exist or are to be put in effect
there concerning dress. Brown-ridge said. "As long as our girls dress neatly, we shall have no complaint," he said. "All of the girls
in this bank with one exception have bobbed hair and we are very well pleased with their appearance."

E. L. Crawford, cashier of the Pacific Southwest's branch here, stated that the rules and regulations of the parent bank in Los Angeles would not affect the local institution.

fortable at all times and we leave

America's Greatest Problem

Kiwanians and Rotarians Assemble As "Friends of the Forest"—At St. Louis—Hear Startling Facts About Timber Supply

A splendid testimonial to the "Friends of the Forests" movement started in St. Louis by the Concanated Order of Hoo-Hoo, (lumbermen) was given there June 19 by more than 600 business men—members of the Kiwanis, Rotary and St. Louis Hoo-Hoo Clubs.

The assembled for a joint
"Friends of the Forests" luncheon
at the City Club, at which Edgar Cochran, secretary of the Michigan Forest Conservation Department, was the speaker.

And in 30 minutes these busy
men of all branches of commerce and industry heard more real facts about the lumber situation in the United States—startling facts, too—
than they had ever heard previously.

Mr. Cochran's address, in part,
follows:

"When European colonization began in America practically half of the entire land area of the whole continent was in virgin forests. At the present time less than a third of the original growth remains.

The United States Department of Agriculture sends out the statement that we have at the present time 181 million acres of land fit only for timber. Col. Greeley, Chief Forester of the United States, solemnly assures us that not to exceed 40 to 50 years will see the end of our mature forests in America.

We have 16 hundred billion feet of virgin timber. We can add to this six hundred billion feet of second growth and culled timber from logged over lands. We are using this at the rate of 60 billion feet a year.

Seventy-five per cent of the virgin timber in the United States is grown in the Pacific Coast states.
Over half of all the forest supplies are west of the Great Plains; three-fourths of the population, three-fourths of the manufacturing, three-fourths of the agriculture are east of the Great Plains.

In 1920 the United States paid $50 million dollars freight bill on lumber. Michigan paid 15 million dollars of this, and your state of Missouri paid in excess of 6 million. The average freight rate per thousand from the forests in Washington to St. Louis is $2.50—from the Mississippi forests, $13.05. Compare this with the old rate you paid
when the Ozark region was at its peak of production. That rate was $5.32.

Lumber is the third large industry in the country. 840 thousand people are employed and 3 billion dollars is the capital investment.
Two-thirds of the annual cut is consumed by central and eastern states. The average car is hauled 355 miles. In 1921 one million six hundred sixty thousand cars were shipped. During the past 30 years lumber prices have advanced three and one-half times as fast as the prices for all staple commodities. The above figures furnish the reason for this advance and no student can with far-sightedness see that the present price is out of proportion. Peak production in the United States was reached in 1906.
Per capita consumed that year was 16 board feet. Since then it has declined 40 per cent, due to the use of timber substitutes. At the present rate we are increasing our use of timber substitutes one and one-half per cent annually of the annual cut.

Reforestation
Reforestation in the United States began in 1901. In 1921 we had spent the paltry sum of $188,702.00 in meeting the biggest economic problem with which the Republic has to cope. The Lake states—Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin—

once had 103 million acres of virgin forests. Then cut 350 billion feet of as fine timber as was ever seen in the world. In 1870 the Lake
state region wrestled the predominant in lumber industry from the Appalachian range, and for many years was the greatest producing section on the continent. Today, less than one-half century after they stood at the very peak, this region pays a thirty million dollar freight rate annually on timber shipped in.

To date about a million and one-
half acres have been reforested, 12.2 per cent by the federal government, 6 per cent by the various states, 3 per cent by municipal government and 78 per cent by private owners—chiefly the farmers.
Japan is planting ten times as much lumber annually as is the United States. Only 8 states of the 48 states maintain forest nurseries. 81 million acres are practically a barren unproductive waste.

Forest Fires
In 1922 there were 52 thousand forest fires. These burned over 8 million acres. The loss was 17 million dollars.

Ninety million acres in federal forests have been protected from fire during the last 4 years at a cost of 2.12 cents per acre. This protection reduces the yearly loss to two-tenths of one per cent. It is conservatively estimated by government and state authorities that three cents per acre would protect the 320 million acres of privately owned land from forest fires and bring down the losses to a fairly negligible sum.

Enormous Consumption
North America with a twelfth of the population of the earth uses
one-half of the timber annually produced in the world. One-fifth of the forest lands in the United States is under federal and state control. Europe found it necessary to keep one-third or more of its forest land areas under government control and supervision.

Only twenty states in the Union
cut enough timber for their needs.
The city of Pittsburgh uses more timber than all Pennsylvania produces, and Pennsylvania at one time led the country in timber cutting.
WE ARE AT THE PRESENT
TIMES USING UP OUR TIMBER RESOURCES FOUR AND ONE-FOURTH TIMES AS RAPIDLY
AS THEY ARE BEING REPLACED BY CURRENT GROWTH. Do not misconstrue this statement to mean we are planting one-fourth as many trees as we are cutting. It means simply that every time a thousand feet of timber is needed, 235 feet of timber is produced. In percentages, this means we are 75 per cent short of a permanent and sustained supply of timber in the United States. Let me state scarcely that at the present rate
this percentage is bound to mount higher.

Biggest Problem
I believe that sufficient figures
and facts have been presented so that we may be justified in making the statement that the question of forests and of future timber supply constitutes the biggest economic problem before the American people today. It is most regrettable that it is a problem which is receiving too little attention from our

TO CLASS ON REDUCING

Before-Breakfast Beach
'Gym' to Be Opened to 200 Pounders

Are you a male person, overweight and desirous of reducing?
Do you weigh more than 200 pounds and wish to remove at least twenty pounds of your avoirdupois?

Can you spare one hour before breakfast each morning?
If you can answer these questions in the affirmative Antar Deraga wishes to make your acquaintance any time after today.

Deraga is captain of the life guards at Newport Beach and a friend of the fat man. Not that Antar is fat, but he sympathizes, he said, with the fat man and offers to help him.

Beach is 'Gym.'

Deraga is planning to open a reducing class on the beach. He says he wants twenty men who weigh over 200 pounds and who will faithfully adhere to his teachings. If they do, he promises to take off twenty pounds for each man before the snow flies—in the east.

It seems that Deraga has discovered the fountain of youth. It is on the beach at Balboa and all he has to do is to listen to Deraga's teachings, strictly adhere to his orders and—off comes the fat. At least, that's his claim.

The captain of life guard will get busy with his class when he has twenty men. The hour will be from 6 a. m. to 7 a. m. The program will consist of setting up exercises in nature's own gymnasium—
the beach. This will be followed by fifteen minutes of running and fifteen minutes on the surf.

To Make No Charge.

Deraga says he has no get-rich-quick scheme, as he will make no charge, he said.

Deraga follows out his exercising program every morning and has had two or three companions at different times. Now he has decided to open a class and prove to the fat men that they do not have to be fat. Anyone is eligible to join the class, the only requisite being that they remain with it for at least sixty days.

"I'll guarantee results," Deraga
concluded.

REACH S. F. TODAY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The British round-the-world fleet, which started its circumnavigation from England last November with a 200-day schedule, will arrive in San Francisco Bay this afternoon.
The fleet consists of the battle cruiser Hood, largest and most powerful warship afloat, the Repulse, almost as large as the Hood,
and the light cruisers Delhi, Danae, Dauntless and Dragon.
San Francisco is the only port on the mainland of the United States where the fleet will stop. A short stop was made at Honolulu.
Approximately 12,000 men and officers compose the personnel of the powerful squadron.

Western films are most popular in England.

PENALTIES DUE VIOLATORS OF LIGHTS RULE

Traffic Officers Told to Devote Nights to Road;
Leniency Under Ban

Pursuing a policy of favors for none, motorcycle officers of the county tonight will place in custody all motorists operating cars with glare headlights, defective or irregular lenses and dirty or illegible license plates. H. S. Warner, captain of the state motorcycle
squad operating in Orange county, announces today. The campaign will continue through July.

"No more citations," is the way
the officer emphasized the fact that arrests instead of citations will result from the campaign instituted throughout the state today.

"The public has had ample time
in which to make correction of headlights and adjustment of license plates where the latter are covered," continued the captain,
and it is the intention of the motor vehicle department not to countenance further violations of the regulations of these two points.

Officials hope by this new campaign to rid the highways of the menace of glaring headlights and the campaign on such violators
will be waged intensively through all of July, and for such time thereafter as is necessary to reduce this hazard to life to a minimum.

According to information received from Will H. Marsh, chief of the motor vehicle division, the division will have some 150 uniformed officers and a number of unpaid deputies enforcing the law.

Officers will devote a portion of each evening to work on the highways, Marsh advised.

CROWDS BREAK
ALL RECORDS

LAGUNA BEACH, July 7.—Laguna Beach witnessed the largest crowd in its history over the three-day holiday the fourth,
fifth and sixth of July.

For the entire three days an incessant stream of automobiles flowed into Laguna, scattering in all directions, pitching their camps
on every unoccupied piece of beach of promontory.

Hotels and apartment houses were filled to capacity and a great number of people were turned away.

There were no traffic accidents
reported during the period in spite of the tremendous amount of cars
traveling from one point of interest to another. Only a few bathing accidents were reported and these were caused by seaweed being thrown up on the beach by the heavy seas. Other accidents being suffered by people not versed in the way of the sea who were rolled by the breakers.

Although a great deal of fireworks was used at the beach during this time only a few accidents
have been reported. These accidents were not serious in any way
—slight powder burns from premature explosions of firecrackers.

No burglaries have been reported and no arrests were made. Taking all into consideration Laguna Beach enjoyed a safe and sane Fourth.

COMMITTEE ON
SUMMONED

NEWPORT BEACH, July 7.—
Frank L. Ainsworth, recently appointed chairman of the committee
of Fifty on Orange County Harbor, has called a meeting of his committee Wednesday, July 9, at 12 o'clock at the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

The other members of the committee on industries are J. J. Conrad, Huntington Beach, R. T. Davies, Fullerton, Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa and J. W. Tubbs,
Santa Ana.

The committee will study how
the harbor plans can best be made to help general industrial and agricultural development in Orange county. It is the opinion of Mr.
Ainsworth that the advice of General Taylor, given at the hearing on Los Angeles harbor, should be followed by Orange county.

General Taylor believes in a broad utilization of harbors and is opposed to location of industries
on harbor frontage as a general practice.

There are no definite records to show that Stratford-on-Avon was the birthplace of Shakespeare.
It is estimated that 15,000 public speeches are made every day of the week throughout the world.

FRUIT OUTPUT
THIRD LOSS

During the past five years the value of field crops and fruit crops
in California has decreased more than one third of the original value, notwithstanding the fact that there has been an increase of these crops. During the same period of time the wages of farm labor have decreased only about 5 or 6 per cent.

This was disclosed, according to word received here today by H. M.
Butterfield, supervisor of agricultural correspondence courses at the University of California.

"This intolerable condition," Butterfield said, in a statement he issued, "demands close and very careful study on the part of California farmers."

"Several ways of helping solve the problem are open. In a number of cases individuals have suggested cutting down production in order to lessen the supply and thus increase prices. But most farmers greatly dislike this negative way of effecting higher prices. The average American seems to want to meet his enemy as soon as possible and so a more positive solution of the problem is sought."

"It has been suggested that through greater co-operation farmers might better extend their markets and thus increase the demand.
This is a positive way of affecting prices. Business men have said that no person ever made money
over a period of time by refusing to produce. It seems that an increase in demand is more desirable than a decrease in production,
and if a decrease in production becomes necessary to prevent an immediate loss, let farmers still endeavor to concentrate on an increased demand through an extension of their markets. Most of the leading California co-operatives are meeting the problem in this way.
The fault may well lie in under-consumption rather than in over-production."

An increase in the use of machinery, wherever possible, will tend to cut down the effect of relatively high priced labor. This will be especially needed as production increases and a lower cost of crops becomes essential to the continued welfare of California farmers."

TOKIO, July 7.—Major A. S. N.
MacLaren, British round-the-world flyer, reached Kasumigaura, forty miles northwest of here, at 2 p. m.
today, after a difficult flight from Kagoshima.

MacLaren was forced down on the coast near Kishimoto late yes-

bucking a severe gale.

A supply of gasoline and oil was rushed from Kishimoto, enabling him to proceed to the latter base shortly before dusk.

The British crew adjusted the supplies of fuel, proceeded on to Kasumigaura today.

CITIES' JOINT
PROJECT NOW
UP TO MEET
OF BOARDS

Feasibility Investigation Committee Soon to Make Report to Councils

CONFER WITH EXPERT
Representatives Enthused; Believe Success Would Follow Undertaking

Is the proposed project of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and, possibly, other communities of the county, joining in a co-operative effort to develop a water source that will supply water for all the communities feasible?

Mayor J. W. Tubbs of Santa Ana says he does not know. Members of other boards are in the same position, he said—except, possibly,
the members on each board identified with a committee appointed to make investigations and recommendations to the joint councils.

This committee, recently appointed, was authorized to employ an expert water engineer to assist it in its investigations. Tubbs said he understood that such engineer
had been in conference with the committee, and that the committee
now is prepared to file its report.

Col. S. H. Finley, who was among those present at the Democratic convention at New York, is chairman of the committee.

Await Finley's Return.
"Upon Finley's return here, we shall follow up this movement the councils began some months ago," Tubbs said. "It is my impression that the committee has made investigations sufficient to form a basis for a report. I do not know what information it has developed. Municipal elections last April, and other matters of a pressing nature, occupied the attention of various city bodies and we have not gotten down to brass tacks as quickly as we would have done had not the elections interfered."

"The members of each council
are enthusiastic over the proposal
that the cities co-operate in the water development program as they did in the building of the joint outfall to the ocean."

"If it is feasible to consolidate the interests of all the cities in development of a supply that will provide water for all, there is little doubt in my mind but that eventually the plan will be executed."

Prefer Gravity Water.
Discussions by councilmen in the past have indicated a preference
for a location that will insure gravity water for all of the municipalities concerned. Some point in the Santa Ana river has been suggested in the discussions.

A joint meeting of the councils, contemplated for last week was not held because of the Fourth of July holiday period, it was stated. It was intimated by Tubbs today that the meeting may be held some time this week or next. He is chairman of the joint boards.

Matters pertaining to the joint outfall sewer "need attention,"
he stated. This applies particularly to the Placentia sanitary district, which is to be admitted to the joint outfall sewer enterprise as part owner. Engineers of the four cities and the district have completed investigations on which to determine the cost to the district and the percentage of the capacity of the outfall that is to be assigned to the district.

ROB ANAHEIM HOTEL
ANAHEIM, July 7.—A young man entered the Valencia hotel
early Sunday morning, engaged a room and while the night clerk, M.
C. Stewart, was showing the young man to his room, a confederate of the customer entered and rifled the cash register of $68.50. Stewart reported to the police. Both young men were well dressed and appeared as "sleeks," Stewart said. The night watchman saw the thief disappear with the money. Only paper money, dollars and half dollars were taken. The small change was not removed.

OYSTERS TO BE MARKETING BY PROMOTER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 7.—"Spot" may become a word as familiar to Californians as to the people who reside along the North Atlantic coast, if the plans of F. U. Bowers, retired physician, are successful. The word of Dr. Bowers' vocabulary, has no relation to oysters. It is the stuff from which oysters are made.

In an application made to the state corporation department for a permit to dispose of stock in the Gulf Oyster company which he and associates have formed, Dr. Bowers says he plans to establish extensive oyster beds opposite Altata on the Gulf of California, Lower California. His efforts, he says, have gone beyond the experimental stage. He has produced oysters already that have appeal to the epicurean tastes of oyster lovers in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other portions of the state.

The experimental stage, Dr. Bowers told the department, are to be extended over a large area and are to be surrounded by a fence.

"Why the fence?" he was asked.

"Who ever heard of an oyster escaping?"

The barrier, he explained, is to protect the oysters from their worst enemy, the stingray, a wandering sea nuisance with lengthy tentacles that stings and poisons anything living they touch.

According to Dr. Bowers oysters have been grown in his experimental beds as large as a man's No. 7 shoe. The Mexicans dehydrate the bivalves in the sun and find a good market in their country among people who like them that way.

"Spot," Dr. Bowers said, is the beginning of an oyster. It is thrown off in a form resembling a small smoke screen. It attaches itself to rocks or other obstructions in its wavering pathway and immediately starts the business of becoming a bucket of oysters. Four years must elapse from the time the spot lands until it is ready for the cocktail, frying pan or half shell, Dr. Bowers estimates. His company virtually is a closed corporation, the stock being distributed chiefly to himself and associates.

ATLANTIC CITY IS BIGGEST PLANKED AREA ON EARTH

BY WILL CRESSY
(Copyright 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)
ATLANTIC CITY is where EASTER starts—and last 364 days.

Before Atlantic City dressed up in five miles of board walk, and put on style, it was just plain old-fashioned ABSECON BEACH.

Absecon Beach was located on the seaward side of a low, sandy island, off the coast of New Jersey, 10 miles long, half a mile wide and, in its mountainous regions, piercing the clouds at an elevation of seven and a half feet.

The island originally belonged to old Abner Secon, and he used to use it to scour knives with. But the folks kept coming over more and more to bathe on Ab. Secon's Beach, and finally some Philadelphia folk ran a railroad to it, and ATLANTIC CITY was born.

As the beach was the only part of the island anybody could walk on without snowshoes, they had to build board walks. And then, as everybody on the island had to either go in swimming or stay on the walk, they had to keep extending it.

Until today it is the biggest planked area in the world. Five miles long and 10 feet wide. And here, every day in the year, and most of the night, you can find the poor folks walking and the rich folks either riding in the wheel chairs—or pushing them.

The shore side of the walk is lined with hotels, boarding houses, stores, moving picture shows, ragas, Hot-Doggeries, Sausage-Pies, Hair-Bobberies, Peanutteries, Doughnuteries and all sorts of Auction Rooms.

In these Auction Rooms you can buy anything from a full-dressed flea to a stuffed Siberian Musk Ox; from a Persian Prayer Rug to a pair of brass knuckles.

In these Stores, Auction Rooms and Temples of (Not a) Chance, that "Gentlemen's Agreement" we had with Japan has been obtrusively violated, for there are enough of them right there on that one street to exceed the entire stated quota.

The most popular place of amusement at A. C., or anywhere else, is YOUNG SPEAR. Young Spear, the original founder, was an Indian Chief of the Sadwa Tribe, and the husband of La Belle Pocahontas, the Indian Lady Barber who so successfully, and historically, shaved the Smith Brothers.

Of late years the spelling of this resort has been changed to Young's Pier.

It is an iron pier extending out almost, but not quite, to The Three Mile Limit. Upon its broad spaces can be found about every form of amusement but a Congressional Investigation and a Swedenborgian Church Service.

There are dance halls, theaters, shadey nooks, shadier crooks, and fishing on the sides. They pull the nets three times a day and the rest of it as often as necessary.

It is not necessary now to travel to see the world. Just go to Atlantic City. The whole world is there. Along the great Board Walk.

There are Austrian glass blowers, Algerian acrobats, African crap shooters, Belgian bread bakers, Bolivian bologna boilers, Chinese chop suey choppers, Danish dancers, French hair dressers, German jugglers, Hungarian goulash gobblers, Hawaiian hula huggers, Irish lace makers, Italian spaghetti blowers, Indian fighters, Japanese jugglers, Mexican mandolin manipulators, Muscle Shoal dancers, Norwegian north pole discoverers, Russian refugees, Swiss bell ringers, Scandinavian scalp specialists, Swedish masseurs, Philadelphia flappers, Camden cutters, Trenton tarriers, New York theatrical managers and bobbed haired bandits from every state in the Union.

Next week Will Cressy writes from Syracuse.

CLAIM 642,000 MILES RECORD OF CADILLAC

When R. G. Wells of San Bernardino bought a Cadillac touring car August 2, 1910, to use in his rent business, he was quite sure he had bought a good automobile.

Today, after he has covered more than 242,000 miles with the car, which is still in regular daily usage, he is pretty well convinced that he made no mistake in his purchase," according to Otto Haan, of the Cadillac Garage company.

"Last week he drove it in to the Don Lee headquarters in Los Angeles, and the veteran car showed little signs of its almost fourteen years of service," said Haan. "It had a new coat of paint, the upholstery was in excellent condition, and the copper water jackets of the cylinders were polished till they shone."

"Wells has replaced several springs, for the car has been used on countless desert and mountain trips. The carburetor is new, for the quality of gasoline has changed quite a bit since 1910. There is a new pump shaft in the pump, for it broke when the pump froze solid one night in Bear Valley and he started the motor with it in that shape. There are a few new rings on the pistons. Outside of that, it is all the original car. The motor has never been reground."

"Everybody around San Bernardino knows the old car, and they know it in Bear Valley too. They made 93 trips to Bear Valley last year which is just a sample of the sort of usage it has had all its life."

"Wells made a trip back to Denver and Wyoming with it in 1912 and there wasn't much cross-country travel in those days. He says one gets to think a good deal of an automobile after it gives fourteen years of good service. He says he is going to drive it up to Washington on a hunting trip this fall, and that he would rather trust it than a new car."

LEGION'S SCOUT ACTIVITIES TO BE OUTLINED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—A number of resolutions are beginning to arrive at department headquarters of the American Legion in this city in preparation for the sixth annual convention of the organization at Santa Cruz, August 4-7 inclusive.

An extensive report will be made on the Boy Scout activities of the Legion and a proper resolution dictating the policy of the organization for the ensuing year relative to the Scout movement is expected to greatly increase the activities of the American Legion in this direction.

Adjutant Morgan Keaton has adopted for the past year the slogan, "every post a Scout troop" which has increased the number of Scout troops sponsored by the different posts at least 50 per cent.

Officials of the American Legion sincerely hope that by the end of the next year that every post in the department will have one or more Boy Scout troops. Adjutant Keaton explains that this is the only organization to perpetuate the ideals and principles of the American Legion long after the American Legion members have passed on to the call of the Supreme Commander.

Three thousand sick visitations within the period of three months is the record that twenty-seven American Legion Auxiliary women at Chicago have to their credit. Keaton adds that these women of Auxiliary Unit 372, averaged 111 calls a member or more than a call a day for ninety consecutive days, at the several hospitals caring for disabled workers of the World war.

Years ago, and steam springs often are represented in the emergency case.

When a woman faints nations gallantly join hands to bring her to consciousness. To make aromatic spirits of ammonia, the chemist buys ammonia from a smelly gas plant, begs oil of lemon from Nice, a playground of Europe, and obtains a bit of delicate oil of lavender from Genoa.

FIRST SUMMER BAND CONCERT TOMORROW

The first summer concert of the Santa Ana Municipal band to be given at Birch park tomorrow at 7 p. m., was expected today to be attended by hundreds of men, women and children from all points in the county.

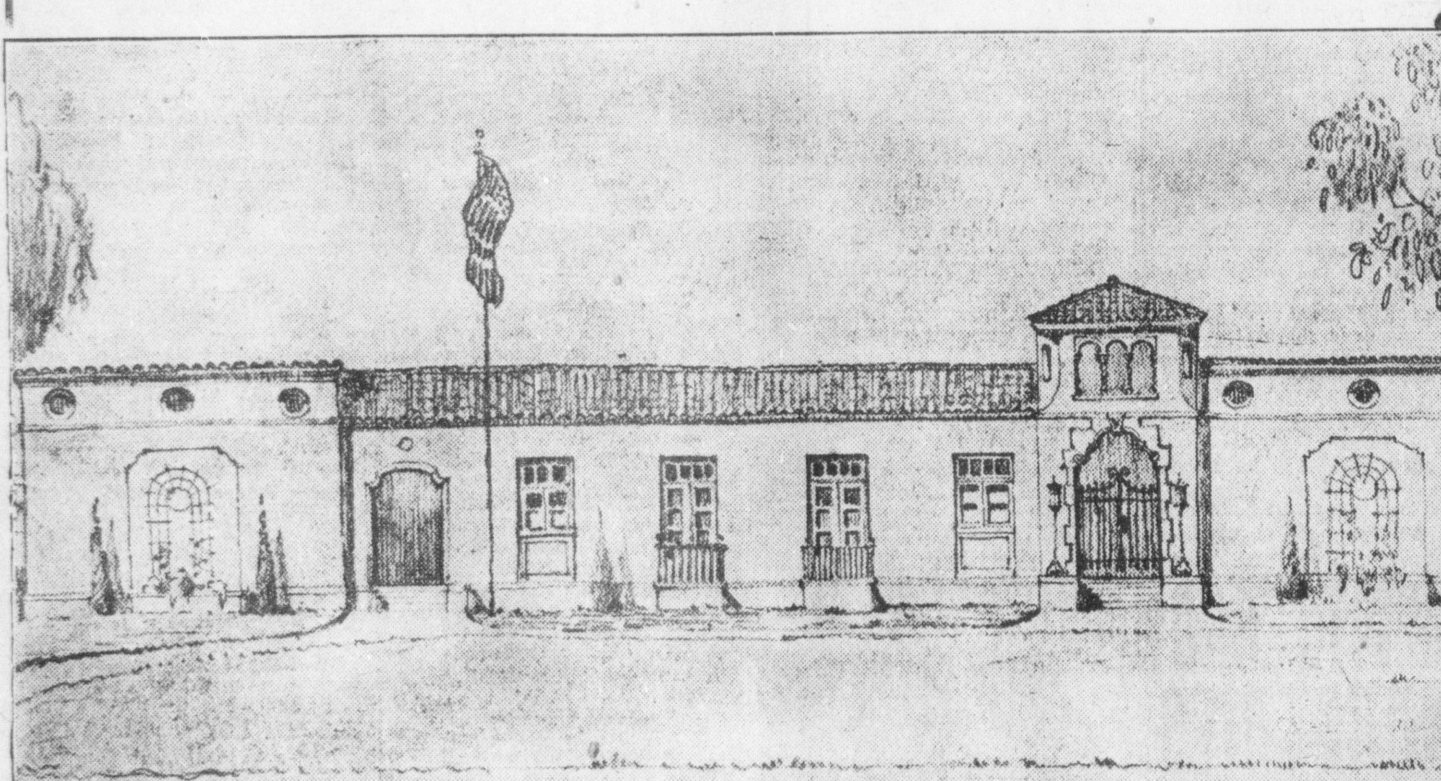

It will be the first open air program given here by the new band, an organization that already has won for itself unstinted praise from professional musicians and laymen.

Directed by D. C. Cianfoni, and composed of fifty experienced musicians, the organization will present a program of band numbers of the best composers.

Tomorrow night's concert will be dedicated to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and city officials, both organizations having given the band full co-operation in its development.

The program will be as follows: March, "Venice" (Cianfoni); overture, "Stradella" (Plotow); quartette, "Rigoletto" (Verdi); soloists, Ramirez, Posimetti, Cianfoni and Taylor; selection, "El Trovatore" (Verdi); waltz, "Lizette" (Pulfray); intermission; polka, "My Hope" (Liberati); selection, "March" (Plotow); piccolo duet, "The Birds in the Forest" (S. Mayr); Briggs and Shappee; waltz, "Jolly Fellows" (R. Vollstedt); selection, "Carmen" (Bizet).

NEW $40,000 GRAMMAR SCHOOL AT DELHI

The growth and prospective development of the Santa Ana industrial district is evidenced by the recent voting of a bond issue for a new public school. Bids were recently let and the general contract was awarded to James S. Elliott.

All millwork, lumber and building material on the general contract are being supplied by the Santa Ana Lumber Co.

The Delhi school and the Roosevelt school, at First and Maple streets, represent a public investment of $120,000.00 that is being made today.

MEDICINE CASE REPRESENTS WORLD TOUR

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Where would the home remedies go if they went home?

Put this question to the family medicine cabinet, but keep the door closed.

If the vials were seized by magic and departed for their native lands, the householder would have to spend years of travel and thousands of dollars for train, steamer, rickshaw, junk, camel and bullock cart fare to gather them once more.

Yet a sick child calls for a cold on the whole world, as well as a doctor, to make him healthy, the geography of a typical home medicine cabinet disclosed, according to a bulletin of the National Geographic society.

Nations Relieve Willie

Willie Jones went on an apple raid and contracted stomach ache, a cold in his head from wet feet, a bruise on his shoulder and a cut on his hand when he fell out of a tree.

Willie's mother made him swallow essence of Asa for his stomach, rubbed his shoulder with spirits of Taiwan (Formosa), made him take a pellet composed of a substance from a treasury millions of years old and an acid from the forest timber for his cold.

She cleaned the cut with tincture of South America and bound up his hand with a product of Georgia, Colorado, Greece and the busy bee.

In the family medicine cabinet these heroic sounding remedies bore more familiar names. Ginger, a bulbous rot from India, relieved his stomach. Spirits of the camphor tree from Japan's tropic island took the pain out of his shoulder.

Aspirin or acid acetylsalicylic, for his cold, came partly from coal tar pressed into coal from vegetation during carboniferous age and partly from ordinary wood vinegar.

Willie's mother prevented infection in the cut with iodine, a by-product of Chile's nitrates. She wrapped his hand with cotton gauze and adhesive tape, the latter

SOON

Like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky the news struck Santa Ana today that Hampton Bros., furniture dealers at 510-512 North Main Street, were planning to move to a new location in the near future.

However, the announcement by members of the firm that a store wide removal sale will open Tuesday morning, will hold even more interest to local people than the fact that the store is to be operated in different quarters.

The proprietors said early today, "We honestly believe that the people of Santa Ana and Orange County have never seen such bargains as those represented in our removal event, and we have forgotten profits rather than pay drayage charges on the merchandise we have on our floors." In answer to questions Hampton's assured patrons that the new store, like the present stock, would include a used furniture department.

PLAN OF JOINT POWER CRISIS MAY HAMPER PAVING PROGRAM IN ORANGE; JANUARY 1 SET FOR FINISH

Anaheim and Fullerton City Trustees to Consider Proposal Thursday

ANAHEIM, July 7.—The proposal for a joint power and water plant, to serve the cities of Anaheim and Fullerton, which might be constructed on a similar plan as that carried out in the joint outfall sewer project just completed by four county cities, will be decided at the regular meeting of the local trustees Thursday night, when Fullerton councilmen will also attend the session.

The calling of a bond issue for a power unit for Anaheim will go forward immediately after the council meeting Thursday night, however, City Manager J. W. Price stated today. Price declared that the council had agreed that Anaheim must have a "standby" unit and that the construction of this would be carried out immediately after the bond election, provided the issue passes. The installation of this unit will be made in such a manner that the city of Fullerton may join Anaheim at any time in a joint power plant, but Price declared that the proposed joint agreement is made but proceed at once with plans for the local unit.

MAIL SERVICE IN ANAHEIM BETTERED

ANAHEIM, July 7.—Local post office receipts, a reliable barometer of business conditions, continue to show a steady increase, in spite of the general contention that business has slumped.

According to a report for the fiscal year just released by Postmaster Harry Whitaker, each quarter shows a decidedly heavy increase over the corresponding period last year, with the final quarter of the year showing a ten per cent increase over the same quarter of the preceding year.

Total receipts at the local office for the fourth quarter ending June 30, were $10,634 as compared with $9,654 in the same period last year. For the fiscal year the receipts were $48,334 as compared with $48,519 for the preceding year.

According to Postmaster Whitaker, this increase of approximately 8 per cent in accordance with the usual gain shown in previous years, and may be taken as material evidence of the steady improvement of business in general.

The extension of the city mail delivery service which has been promised, Anaheim residents for many months, will be put into effect beginning tomorrow, in spite of the fact that no additional help has been granted the local post office, Whitaker announced.

It is due to the initiative of Whitaker that Anaheim is to secure this excellent service in deliveries and collections of mail, since a system has been outlined whereby the regular postal staff will be able to handle the increased work.

The new districts will be included in the city service, will take in virtually every part of the sections inside the city limits, providing curbs and sidewalks have been laid.

POLICE AT ORANGE GO ON VACATIONS

ORANGE, July 7.—The police vacations were on today.

Taking advantage of the two weeks respite from duty offered to city employees, City Marshal M. E. Jemison today had hied himself and family to Long Beach where he will spend the major part of his vacation.

In the chief's absence, Night Patrolman C. W. Pulley will officiate as city marshal, while Louis Baier will serve as extra man.

Baier will take Night Officer Charles Wallace's shift on the residential "beat" with Wallace being advanced to Officer Pulley's place on the downtown "beat."

The police force was voted a two weeks' vacation on pay by the city council at its last meeting. The officers will take the vacation one at a time in their regular turn.

Doll Rack Stand At Beach Closed; Orange Juice O. K.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 7.—Cris Sorenson, of doll rack fame, has opened a concession on the ocean front. This time it is of an entirely different nature and takes the form of an orange juice palace.

A large orange juice machine has been installed that crushes fruit, blends it and sweetens suit the most critical of orange juice critics. July Fourth

Heavy Traffic at Tustin Reported; New Record Is Set

TUSTIN, July 7.—Traffic was the heaviest through this city yesterday that it has ever been in the history of the town, according to old timers here. Traffic, was so congested that at times cars were barely moving across the intersection at Main and D streets.

It was estimated by a local resident that nearly 17,000 machines passed through the town between the hours of 12 m. yesterday and 9 p. m. going in one direction. The average for the machines past a certain point was about thirty per minute. At times the traffic was so congested that only about twenty machines passed the Main street corner per minute.

Other times as high as forty-eight machines were counted by the intersection in one minute. Averaging four people to the machine this count would indicate nearly 65,000 people passed through here yesterday in nine hours.

bridge street, near Palm avenue, according to present plans.

The work will proceed south along Cambridge street, thence back and forward on intervening streets, it was declared. Virtually all preparatory work, including replacing worn water and gas mains, has been accomplished and the various streets are now ready for the paving process, Bonebrake announced.

In event the project is delayed to any great extent by the power shortage, work of filling the ruts on the streets to be paved, occasioned by the laying of the new water and gas mains, will be started within a short while as a means of affording temporary relief, it was stated.

TEACHER LIST AT ORANGE ANNOUNCED

ORANGE, July 7.—Marked by only three changes in the entire staff, the Orange high school faculty for the 1924-25 term was complete today, according to an official announcement by F. A. Henderson, principal.

The faculty, as it stands today, numbers thirty-six including the principal, and next year's enrollment is expected to approach the 600-mark, the highest in the history of the local institution.

Name Assistant Coach

The final vacancy was filled this week with the appointment of Joe N. Buckmaster, former star Whitier college athlete, as assistant athletic mentor.

With the appointment of Mr. Buckmaster, the final vacancy is filled and only the working plans remain to be completed for next year," said Henderson today.

The other two vacancies filled were those of Miss Agnes Arthur, history instructor, who was replaced by Miss Avis Middleton, and Miss Margaret Robertson, mathematics, who will be succeeded by George A. Martin.

Buckmaster, the new assistant coach, won widespread athletic laurels while attending both Whitier high school and Whitier college. His acquisition to the Orange and White coaching staff, headed by M. J. Berg, was regarded as a stroke of good fortune among local sporting circles, where Buckmaster's name is familiar.

Athletic Chances Bright

The athletic prospects for next year, particularly in football and basketball, are reported to be the brightest in the history of the local school. With an abundance of seasoned material to work with, Coaches Berk and Buckmaster are expected to whip a formidable gridiron machine into shape for the coming season. In basketball, the prospects for a winning combination are reported just as rosy as on the gridiron, where Orange, for the first time in years, is looked to display real strength.

The faculty for the coming year follows:

F. A. Henderson, principal; M. M. Fishback, vice principal and head of the history department.

Ethel V. Walker, dean of girls and attendance officer.

Alfred Higgins, head of commercial department and director of night school.

George R. Stoner, head of English department.

M. A. Kaylor, head of science department.

William H. Lowry, head of mathematics department.

Percy Richards, head of music department.

E. R. Forbes, head of manual arts department.

M. J. Berg, head of physical education department.

F. L. Carrier, drama and physics.

W. J. Sutherland, English.

Pern Summer, English.

Esther Cowdy, English.

Vernon Shippee, science.

Gelsmina Brown, science.

Avis Middleton, history.

Nita L. Walton, history.

Hattie Nobs, Spanish.

Genevieve Conger, Spanish.

Grace Harrington, Latin.

George A. Martin, mathematics and physical education.

Verna Bernald, mathematics.

Joe N. Buckmaster, physical education.

Mildred Porter, physical education.

Louise Hester, physical education.

George A. Campbell, manual arts.

S. O. Starnfield, auto mechanics.

J. A. Moore, commercial.

Martha Schmidt, commercial.

Frances J. Heil, art.

Mae Hotchkiss, domestic art.

Nellie D. Klein, domestic science.

Phyllis L. Keyes, music.

Margaret G. Scott, librarian.

Ethel M. Hurlbut, study hall.

Miss Wanda Priest, study hall.

Crowd of July 4 Declared Largest At Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, July 7.—Old residents of Newport Beach today are unanimous in their declaration that the crowd on July fourth was the largest in the history of the city.

City Marshal J. A. Porter is authorized for the statement that fully 60,000 persons were at Newport and Balboa on the Fourth while equally as large a number was on hand Saturday and Sunday, making a total of 120,000, who spent the holiday season on the beach.

Every available parking space was occupied on the Fourth, according to Marshal Porter. Every garage was filled. There were at least 500 machines parked in the new tract on the Peninsula, some of the paved streets having been thrown open the day before.

At the Municipal camp grounds every inch of city land was occupied, according to W. J. Truax, custodian. The overflow from the auto camp was accommodated on Fifteenth street and the adjacent land.

No trouble was had with the three day crowd, according to Marshal Porter, who declared that it was the most orderly he has ever known at Newport. A few arrests were made for unlawful possession of liquor. There also were two or three arrests for violations of the traffic ordinance. Aside from two children wading too far into the water at the Palisades there were no surf accidents.

MOTORCYCLE USED FOR FAMILY CAR

NEWPORT BEACH, July 7.—From New York to California on a motorcycle is a common occurrence, but when the same motorcycle conveys seven persons across the nation it causes some attention. At least it did at the municipal auto camp this week.

Henry B. Pattee of Brooklyn, his wife and five children made the trip in Pattee's motorcycle. But it had a side-car and on the side-car was arranged a collapsible platform, which in daytime conveys a number of children to their mother. In the evening the platform was used for the floor of a tent.

Pattee's creation is a marvel for compactness. He admits that he had some trouble getting up a few hills with his load, but that case he had no trouble at all. The motorcycle was able to negotiate the incline under its own power.

The Pattee family is enjoying the trip immensely according to the mother. They have been on the road thirty-four days and expect to get back to Brooklyn in time for the children to re-enter school in the fall.

"It's a trip we planned months ago," said Mrs. Pattee, "and we have demonstrated that one can tour the country at very little expense if one doesn't care for appearances, and we don't."

CITRUS SHIPMENTS BEING CURTAILED

ANAHEIM, July 7.—In order to avoid competition with the heavy shipments of fruit from other parts of the country, which are now being rushed to the eastern markets, citrus growers of this vicinity have joined with the rest of the state in slight curtailment of shipments, accounting for the drop in the total number of cars of valencias moved from the city during the past week. The shipments during the past seven days totaled ninety-seven cars, a slight decrease over the previous week.

Simultaneously with the arrival of other fruits, the orange markets showed a heavy drop in prices, particularly in small sizes, 28's and 30's, many cases failing to bring a price to cover packing and shipping costs.

Shippers are meeting the situation with decreased shipments of smaller sizes, the bulk of these being consumed by local buyers. It was declared that the valencia prices will, in a short time, reach a new high mark, if the shipments are regulated according to the demand, and in accordance with the expected arrival of competitive fruits on the eastern markets.

Robert Harper of the local Parsons and Parsons store is assisting in the company's other store at Wintersburg during the time the clerks are taking their vacations.

The well which for the past thirty-five years has done duty at the Talbert home ranch and was used for domestic purposes caved in this week under the pressure of a pump casing having rusted away and weakened. Connections were at once made with another well, distant about 300 feet also located on the ranch.

TUSTIN, July 7.—Traffic was the heaviest through this city yesterday that it has ever been in the history of the town, according to old timers here. Traffic, was so congested that at times cars were barely moving across the intersection at Main and D streets.

It was estimated by a local resident that nearly 17,000 machines passed through the town between the hours of 12 m. yesterday and 9 p. m. going in one direction. The average for the machines past a certain point was about thirty per minute. At times the traffic was so congested that only about twenty machines passed the Main street corner per minute.

Other times as high as forty-eight machines were counted by the intersection in one minute. Averaging four people to the machine this count would indicate nearly 65,000 people passed through here yesterday in nine hours.

MINOR ACCIDENTS AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 7.—A young son of M. H. Brown of 4111 South Van Ness avenue, Los Angeles, was injured by a firecracker. The firecracker exploded and injured one eye but it is believed that his sight will be saved.

C. H. Berwald of 800 South Berendo street, Los Angeles, was prostrated while swimming. He was helped ashore by a number of his friends and received medical attention from Dr. E. H. Smith.

T. M. Hill of 604 Lyon street, Santa Ana, cut his hand very badly on a broken bottle while swimming. Mr. Hill is a cement worker.

Robert Workman of Pomona received minor injuries to his leg when a firecracker exploded, giving him a painful burn.

W. Zoragunas of 1800 Center street, Alhambra, injured his leg while swimming. To was treated by Dr. Smith. Mr. Zoragunas was a dancer in the late Mission Play.

Little Clarence Goodwin of 1246 Ocean View avenue, Los Angeles, sustained cuts and bruises when he fell from a car driven by his father, and rolled under the wheels. His face was badly cut and scratched.

Junior Warman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Warman was merrily playing with firecrackers when he conceived the idea of having them explode overhead. One of them fell and set his clothing afire. Junior received a bad burn on the back of his neck.

Miss Dunn of 835 East Third street, Santa Ana, while swimming at Laguna Beach, fell and dislocated her shoulder. Miss Dunn received medical attention from Dr. Smith.

Talbert

"TALBERT, July 5.—The "Booster Band" is the newest organization in Talbert and the first meeting was held on Tuesday afternoon. Boys from the ages of eight to twelve are eligible. It is planned to have a meeting of the society each Tuesday afternoon at the local church and all boys of this age will be welcome.

The meetings will be devoted to numerous interesting things. Selected books of interest to boys will be taken up, "booster" songs will be learned, also drills and the but, emblems of the organization will be presented.

Mrs. E. E. Talbert and Mrs. G. M. Gardner are organizing the society and at Tuesday's meeting assisted in the music and other features offered.

The "Booster Band" was organized especially for the summer months and will afford ample entertainment for the boys during the vacation period.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Landrum who left Talbert two weeks before for Missouri was received telling of a most unpleasant trip and their destination not yet in sight. The party which includes Mr. and Mrs. Landrum and their little girl and a friend, Mr. Sheffield found travel across the desert dusty and hot on the first stage of their journey, then, further east equally disagreeable weather of a different nature; rainy and stormy, was encountered. The little girl was also taken ill while on the road adding to their distress she having contracted measles at the start of the trip and continued ill all the way. A card received Tuesday tells of the arrival of the party at their old home, June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis and child have spent the week at San Juan Hot Springs occupying a comfortable cottage while there and enjoying the benefit of the mineral baths. Mrs. Dennis, who had been confined at her home for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism benefited greatly by them and after the first bath felt better than at any time during her illness. Sam Talbert motored to the springs with the Dennis' Sunday returning the same day.

Robert Harper of the local Parsons and Parsons store is assisting in the company's other store at Wintersburg during the time the clerks are taking their vacations.

The well which for the past thirty-five years has done duty at the Talbert home ranch and was used for domestic purposes caved in this week under the pressure of a pump casing having rusted away and weakened. CHARMAN BACK FROM G. O. P. SESSIONS

FULLERTON, July 7.—"I am very glad to be home again," said Charles C. Chapman, Fullerton's favorite son, who was a candidate for the vice-presidential nomination on the Republican ticket, who with Mrs. Chapman arrived home yesterday morning after being away more than a month. They left here on June 3, and went to Cleveland on the special train which carried the California delegation to the convention.

Pleased With Dawes

Regarding the Republican national ticket Mr. Chapman said that no stronger man for the second place could have been selected if the party leaders had concentrated on General Dawes for months before the convention.

"He is an able man, and one who will win a lot of votes," said Mr. Chapman.

"I am very happy that I did not get more entangled in the vice-presidential contest than I did. Of course, I was not unmindful of the honor, but I believe the right man was chosen. Twice I declined to have the California delegation consider my name and present it to the convention. There was a time when, even after that, I might have received the nomination had I consented to have had my name presented. That was when General Dawes was receiving but three or four votes.

Chapman Favored

The Pennsylvania delegation desired to vote for any man that the California delegation wanted. Mr. Chapman said, and the New York delegation came to the convention hall saying that headquarters was giving favorable consideration to his name.

Following the close of the convention Mr. Chapman spent several days in Chicago, after which he visited friends on Long Island. Coming west from New York, his return trip turned north at Chicago and came through Canada, spending a day at Lake Louise, in the Canadian Rockies. Mr. Chapman looks much improved in health as a result of his trip, and says that he is feeling fine.

Miss Cora Embree and Mr. Archer of Santa Ana were Sunday guests at the Harry Harper home.

Mrs. Gardner received frequent communications from her husband, Rev. George M. Gardner who is spending some weeks in the northern part of the state but the messages are short for the Rev. Mr. Gardner is very busy at his ranch, and is finding the weather rather vary also leaving but little time for inclination for letter writing.

Gardner planned to remain at Corning until July 13.

S. E. Talbert who has a contract of excavation work on the state highway moved the steam shovel Tuesday, from Bitter Point where that portion of the work has been completed. The shovel is now located at Santa Argo, on the highway where construction is progressing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harper and son of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Hadley of Smetzler and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooley of Garden Grove had a steak bake and picnic at Orange County Park Sunday evening.

A card from Mrs. Frank Borchard has just been received by her sister, Mrs. George Bushard telling something of their wonderful vacation trip in the old world. The Borchard party were on the Rhine near Italy at the time of writing. They told of their recent meeting in Rome with the Giesler party of this place and spoke of the proposed return to America which is scheduled for August 15, by both parties of travelers.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wells and family spent Sunday visiting the former's mother, Mrs. C. Burley. Los Angeles does not seem to agree with Mrs. Wells and unless her health improves the family talk of returning to their ranch here which they left last fall to go to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lacabanne were pleasantly surprised Tuesday by a visit from old friends of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lafette and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gilbert and family the Misses Alpha, Deda, Lola and baby Florine and William and Gilbert motored to Loma where they spent the day at the home of Mrs. Gilbert's brother Seebury Wells. Lola Gilbert remained over for a more extended visit at her uncle's home.

Mrs. T. A. Wells of Los Angeles spent Tuesday as the guest of her mother-in-law, Mrs. C. Burley.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley are building on an addition of two screen porches to their house. The front porch will be used as a sleeping porch.

Miss Mildred Swift came from Long Beach to spend the week-end at home.

D. C. Gilbert has sold forty-one head of his dairy stock reserving but a few head for domestic use. The cattle were sold, a part to Andrew Worthy and the remainder to the Swiss dairymen who are being stored at the barns on the Huntington Beach ranch and at the home ranch here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Giesler and son, Miss Lucille Giesler, Harold Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Callens, daughters, Bernice and Irene and Joe, Frances and Mattie Rietz of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Hard Stoffer and son of Anaheim, enjoyed a motor trip to Capistrano Sunday.

BEACH BECOMES MECCA FOR PEOPLE WITH CAMP OUTFITS; NEW HIGHWAY PROVES BOON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 7.—Campers hailing from all parts of the state have inhabited the beach here for the past three days. Some of the campers come in their own machines, others in their own machines, and all used tents of one description or another. Bathing suits, fishing poles, camp equipment and ice cream freezers were much in evidence.

It was estimated by one local man that over 500 people camped on the beach within the city limits here during the past three days. The three and one-half miles of open beach is ideal for campers, it is pointed out by James Macklin, a member of the city council.

Macklin spent much of his time during the past few days mingling with the people on the beach, telling them of the many improvements and conveniences being made for the public here, and urging them to come to this city again. Many of the people who were on the beach came from Pasadena and Los Angeles, having taken advantage of the new coast highway which leads into this city from Long Beach.

Two assistant life guards were employed by the city over the week-end to protect bathers.

WATER LEFT BY WAGONS CAUSE OF PROTEST

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 7.—Drip, drip, drip. So departs the water from the ice cream wagons which frequent these parts on warm days.

But the drip, drip, drip has come under the official eye and the eye has been described as fishy.

Wherever the ice cream wagon parks to satisfy the cravings of the old and young for frozen confections a little puddle of water has been left behind as a reminder of the visits.

This water has eaten into the pavement and the route of the wagons can be traced from hole to hole, a la golf links, as it were.

The city trustees tonight are expected to give first reading to an ordinance which will provide that all ice cream wagons carry a pail for the purpose of collecting the excess water.

In other words, the trustees will have the drop on the drip.

LOSE YOUR DOG? POLICE HAVE TWO

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 7.—Long Beach and Los Angeles people who lost their dogs here July 4 are asked to communicate with Chief of Police John Tinsley.

Two dogs, one a brown Spitz wearing a Los Angeles license, and the other a white bulldog wearing a Long Beach license, were found and reported to the local police by local residents who are taking care of the dogs at the present time. The dogs will be returned to their owners on proper identification.

'ADS' BIG HELP IN ATTRACTING CROWD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 7.—Santa Ana Register advertising was today receiving a large amount of credit for the huge crowds who yesterday and for the past three days have visited the local beach. According to many people, the largest crowd ever in this city was here during the past three days.

Many of the people came from Orange county, including Orange, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, Garden Grove, Tustin and other towns. Many were also here from Los Angeles and vicinity.

Several groups of people, when asked why Huntington Beach was selected, replied that they had seen mention of the town in the Santa Ana Register, and not having been here for several months decided to come again.

All of the visitors were well impressed by the city, according to reports given out by many of the tourists, who marvelled at the growth and improvement of the city during the past few months.

New gas stoves, equipped with a ten cent meter which given continuous 24-hour service, proved to be one of the most popular improvements on the beach. People from all along the beach flocked to the stoves and carried back hot coffee and meat to their families.

New drinking fountains have also been installed on the beach by the city and according to members of the city council it is planned to erect two modern rest rooms along the beach to accommodate the increasing crowds.

Local bean crops are coming out wonderfully now that the warmer weather has arrived. The worms which have depleted the fields rapidly have been killed out by the heat and relieved of their inroads and vines are making a rapid growth and runners a foot and a half long are now on the vines.

Rev. B. L. Glazner of Santa Ana who is pastor in charge of the Greenville circuit during the absence of the pastor, Rev. George M. Gardner preached on Sunday at each of the three churches of the charge, Greenville, Bolsa and the local church. A large crowd greeted him here.

EXTENSION OF PIER TO BE TAKEN UP

MISS ALIAS

BY DOUGLAS GRANT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sallie Pack, employee of the Fair Deal, Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweetheart, Michael Curran. That night a storm comes up and Sallie volunteers to take down a washing line out that night by Ma Brennan, with whom Sallie lives. The girl starts to climb the yard, a crash strikes her a blow on the head.

When Sallie regains consciousness she finds herself in strange surroundings. She is lying on a bed, and a French maid who calls her Mademoiselle Alva and tells her that her mother, Madame Curran, will be in shortly to see her. When Madame appears she kisses Sallie and tells her that she was injured in a train wreck and that Cousin Wheeler saved her life.

Madame Copeland tells Sallie she is being cared for by Dr. Qualters. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

While she stood there with the warm sunshine streaming in upon her face and turning her hair to spun gold a man entered slowly along the dirt road beyond the wall on a beautiful bay horse and Sallie gazed admiringly at both mount and rider until she realized that the latter was staring fixedly up at her window!

She dropped the curtain but through its folds her eyes followed him and just before he disappeared into a clump of trees he turned in his saddle and lifted one arm. He didn't exactly wave but it looked like a sort of signal, nevertheless.

Sallie turned just as the door opened and Therese hurried in. "Why are you out of bed?" she demanded sharply. The change from the deference of her former manner was unmistakable and Sallie lifted her eyebrows.

"What's the idea?" she retorted. "I guess I can look out the window if I want to. Therese!"

The mention of her name brought a quick flush to the woman's sallow cheek.

"But mademoiselle must not rise until the doctor has come!" Her tone was respectful enough now, yet insistent. "You see, Miss Alva! It was not wise!"

For Sallie's treacherous knees had begun to give way beneath her and she was forced to reach out to a chair-back for support. She permitted Therese to lead her to bed and adjust the covers about her, then closed her eyes wearily, indifferent to the maid's departure.

That sudden flash of authority had revealed to her the difficulties of her present predicament and she couldn't afford to waste any time worrying about it. Folks didn't go around adopting strange girls out of railroad wrecks for nothing and the fact that Mrs. Copeland was so undeniably the real thing showed that she must be pretty desperate herself to take such a risk.

For some reason Sallie was to be palmed off on somebody as her step-daughter Alva; that was clear but it was equally certain she couldn't get away with it, not unless Sallie fell in with the scheme and there was a swell chance of that!

All she wanted now was to get home to Ma Brennan and her job at the Fair Deal. Here she was in New York where she didn't know a soul, without clothes or money and in the hands of two women who were evidently determined to keep her for awhile at least, but meantime Ma Brennan would be crazy with worry, thinking likely that she'd run away on account of that quarrel with Mike, and she'd lose her job if she didn't show up mighty quick.

The door opened again and a mousey little woman entered with a rustle of her stiffly starched white uniform and a professional smile on her lips. She held a great bunch of pink roses and advanced to the bed.

"My patient is much better this morning, I hear!" Her voice was brisk but soothing and she did not stare as searchingly as the other women had done. "These came for you just now and I knew you would want to see them."

She laid the huge sheaf of roses on the coverlet and Sallie glanced indifferently at them until she saw that a card was poking in among them. Drawing it out she read the engraved name: "Mr. Wheeler Sloan," with "Porefather's Club" down in the lower left corner and written across the top in a queer, slanting, uneven hand: "Just heard the glad news. Waiting all impatience to see you."

Cousin Wheeler might wait indefinitely, as far as Sallie was concerned. She laid the card on the table beside her and watched the nurse as the latter moved about the room and into the tiled bath beyond with the quiet efficiency of a person who knew her business.

The nurse emerged from the bathroom shaking a tiny thermometer and approached the bed once more.

"The doctor will be here soon," she announced. "I must take your temperature now, Miss Copeland."

"Listen!" Sallie caught her wrist and pulled her down beside her. "You're Miss Tidmarsh, ain't you? How long have you been taking care of me?"

"For three days my dear," Miss Tidmarsh disengaged one hand smiling again. "You have made a splendid recovery!"

"Then you know I'm not cuckoo, don't you? mean, that there's nothing the matter with my head now even if I was knocked silly?"

"Of course not! It was only natural that you should be slightly delirious but you are perfectly rational this morning, Miss Copeland."

"I'm not 'Miss Copeland'!" Sallie burst out desperately. "You've got to listen and try to understand! I was mixed up in that train wreck and rescued by mistake for somebody else! I don't know why Mrs. Copeland brought me here, I never saw her or that Therese before in my life and I've got to go home!"

"I understand!" Miss Tidmarsh spoke soothingly and did not appear to be surprised at the revelation. "You will be arranged for you but you must let me take your temperature before you say any more for I must mark it on your chart and if it has risen I am afraid the doctor won't let you go."

"Say, listen, sister, you've got me wrong!" Sallie pleaded in sudden panic. "They're trying to put that over on you the same as me, that I don't know who I am nor what I'm talking about! You've got to help me get away!"

"Yes, yes, I will, but not if you say one word more!" The nurse's cool tones had crisped with authority. "Take the thermometer—that is right, now close your lips, please. Give me your hand."

Her firm fingers closed on Sallie's wrist and the girl lay watching her in mute appeal as she counted the pulse-beats and frowning wrote some figures on a little leather pad.

"Excuse me. Just a minute, please." She removed the thermometer and went quickly into the bathroom before Sallie could utter a word, but a knock sounded almost immediately upon the outer door leading to the hall and she reappeared to usher in a slim, dark, smooth-shaven man in the late forties, who with a whispered word and a nod handed her a small bag, and then advanced to the bed rubbing his shapely hands together in a way that made Sallie long me wrong!" Sallie pleaded in sudden panic. "They're trying to put that over on you the same as me, that I don't know who I am nor what I'm talking about! You've got to help me get away!"

NO AD VALOREM TAX IS NEEDED BY CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, July 5. -- The $40,000,000 mark set by the governor and the legislature for the 1924 expenses of the state will be reached by revenue from usual sources and no ad valorem tax, as directed by the legislative act will be levied in case those sources failed to produce that amount, will be necessary, says the state board of equalization in a statement just issued.

In fact, the legislature as well as the governor was fully advised at the time the direction was given to raise that amount that no such ad valorem would be necessary, as both were in possession of estimates of probable future income and in determining appropriations kept within those estimates.

The members of the state board, explained that the railroads and some of the other public utility taxes shows a very abnormal increase, in fact very much in excess of any similar increase since the adoption of the divided system.

Railroad taxes in 1924, they said, show an increase of $1,528,821.82 over the 1923 tax. Gas, light and power companies increase $610,876.18. Banks increase $278,862.50. Insurance companies increase $751,926.24. Business franchises increase $434,984.00. These with other small gains make a total increase of $3,950,144.37.

This is much the greatest increase shown in any year since the adoption of the gross receipts system where no change in rates has occurred and far exceeds all expectations of the operating companies themselves as evidenced by their estimates furnished this department for use in determining probable income for the 1923 legislature. The total tax extension for the year is $40,250,938.31. This amount, together with receipts from other sources which will be at least $8,000,000 will show an income comfortably in excess of this year's appropriations. Not all of this is available for expenditure, however, because of nearly $3,000,000 withheld amounts.

Asked as to the effect of the King tax bill suits on this revenue the members of the board said: "This total of course includes the disputed amounts that will again be sought to be withheld by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railroad companies amounting to $2,726,054.53 and the treasury will accordingly have available for expenditure only $37,524,943.83 of this total sum."

"Business corporation franchise reports, the members explained, show that the year 1923 was a very satisfactory and prosperous business year, all parts of the state showing a healthy business growth."

Dispute Over Bill Is Due for Airing

Judge Z. B. West is scheduled to hear in superior court here at 10 a. m. tomorrow the case of D. E. Liggett and Company against the Harper Brothers Commercial company, the action involving a dispute between the two local firms over a bill for goods sold by the plaintiff to the defendant.

Liggett claims the amount due is $554, while Harper Brothers assert that a "set off" of $125 is due because a trailer, said to be involved in the bill, was never delivered.

GRIEF REWARD TO TELLER AS OIL OFFICIAL

Judging from the situation of Benjamin S. Brubaker, Orange bank teller, as it was represented today on the eve of two local court hearings, he got nothing but trouble for his services as secretary of the Pacific corporation, a Signal Hill oil company.

The trouble was evidenced by the preliminary hearing of a criminal charge, obtaining money under false pretenses, filed against Brubaker, R. C. Steel, president of the corporation; Jack Gaines, Orange real estate broker, and Mrs. Mollie Meinecke, business associate of Gaines. The hearing with reference to the three first-named defendants is set for 10 a. m. tomorrow in Justice Jack Landell's court. Mrs. Meinecke's hearing is set for 3 p. m.

Has Salary Claim

Immediately after defending himself from the criminal charge, Brubaker is scheduled to appear Wednesday to press his suit against the Pacific corporation for alleged unpaid salary. Which situation indicates that, as suggested, trouble was all he got out of it.

The trial of Brubaker's action against the Pacific corporation is set for Wednesday at 10 a. m. in Judge R. Y. Williams' superior court department. It involves Brubaker's claim for $700, alleged to be due him as salary. The corporation denies his claim. Brubaker is represented in the case by Attorney L. F. Coburn of Orange, with Attorney Robert Brennan, Los Angeles, appearing for the defense. Besides the Pacific corporation, the defendants include Steel and other officials of the company, William H. Biel, J. P. Detweiler, R. R. Parrott, J. R. Darnell, Orman W. Ewing, H. Fiechter and "John Doe" Dierksen.

Would Recover $24,000

Brubaker was included with Steel, Gaines and Mrs. Meinecke in the criminal charges, which were based upon complaints of stockholders. Misrepresentation of conditions affecting the property was one of the accusations made.

A group of the Pacific corporation stockholders recently filed a civil action against the corporation, various officials, and the Bank of Italy, to recover investments aggregating about $24,000. The stockholders claimed they had placed their money with the American Savings Bank, Long Beach, now in the hands of the Bank of Italy, on the agreement that stock certificates should be issued by the Pacific corporation through the bank to the stockholders, before the money was turned over to the corporation. The money was turned over, the plaintiffs claim, and no stock certificates were issued.

Another Girl Bandit

BELOGRADE, July 7.—Jugoslavians' girl bandit does not have bobbed hair! Her hair is, however, carefully marcelled. Known as the "silken woman" because of her extravagance in dress, she was captured at the head of a band of brigands that have been terrorizing the countryside. Neither she nor her fellow prisoners will reveal her name.

TO TELL COURT OF 'BARGAIN' SALESMAN

M. N. Jay of Anaheim, who says he purchased $1000 worth of stock for $900, but who was not satisfied with his "bargain" as subsequent events proved, today was preparing to press his charge that T. S. Williams, alias A. H. Edwards, obtained his money under false pretenses.

Preliminary examination of the charge against Williams is set for Tuesday at 10 a. m. before Justice J. B. Cox in this city.

Williams, it is charged, sold stock in the United Candy Shops corporation to Jay, who claims he was offered a "sacrifice" bargain and accepted it, paying $900 for a $1000 block of stock.

Jay alleges that Williams used the assumed name of A. H. Edwards and claimed to represent Henry Terrill, a Long Beach automobile dealer. Terrill, according to Jay's account of what "Edwards" told him, had just received a carload of cars and was in need of immediate funds, thus being willing to sacrifice his stock.

Jay found this story to be mythical, he told the authorities. The stock, he said, proved worthless.

Police brought David Barnett of Balham, England, out of a prison cell to arrest him for contempt of court.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 7.—Wall street's only reaction to the continued deadlock at the Democratic convention was the thought that it practically insured Coolidge's election. With stocks now in the second month of the upward movement which most observers feel is discounting a Republican success in November, as well as trade revival on a broad scale this fall, many representative issues scored further substantial gains.

In the railroad group, continuation of the forward movement carried several representative issues including L. & N., Nickel Plate and Big Four to the best levels of their corporate history.

INDUSTRY LAND FUND DRIVE IS OPENED HERE

Committees representing the senior and junior Chambers of Commerce and the Santa Ana Board of Realtors today instituted a drive to complete this week financing of the Santa Ana Industrial Land company, being organized for the purpose of buying acreage to hold exclusively for industrial sites here.

With the goal placed at $45,000, the committees began their work with a fund of $31,500, subscribed by thirty-four business men and firms.

A. N. Zerman, chairman of the organization committee, said he anticipated completion of the fund by the end of the week at the latest.

Would Sell at Cost

The $45,000 would purchase forty acres or more, the chairman said, as he emphasized the declaration made that acquisition of such a piece of ground would be an important factor in inducing location here of industries.

"The company will buy the acreage and sell it to industrial concerns at cost plus a carrying charge," said Zerman. "This will mean that factory managements seeking sites here will not have to pay prices advancing values will justify."

"Acreage near Santa Ana never will be any cheaper than it is today. Every business man in the city should be directly concerned in the movement to organize the company. Location here of a manufacturing industry means a greater population and consequently a greater trading center."

"Those who have so far subscribed to units in the organization have done so purely in the spirit of advancing the city. There are scores of others in the city who should do likewise. As a matter of fact we should secure more than forty acres and we could do it if we had a larger amount of money."

Pay Installments

A unit of $500 is the least that may be sold to an individual, the chairman said, adding that it is probable that all of the acreage will be sold before the last installment on pledges is called for. Pledgors are obligated to pay 20 per cent of the subscription immediately upon organization of the company, the second installment upon the call of the board of directors and the balance in installments of not more than 20 per cent every six months.

Emphasizing the fact that it is not proposed that the company shall give away sites, Zerman said that every cent invested would be returned, with interest.

If the balance of $13,500 needed to complete the fund is subscribed this week, it was expected today the subscribers would be called together at an early date for the election of a board of directors and to take steps for incorporation of the company.

The names of all subscribers, Zerman said, would be published when the list is completed.

WHEAT PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO MARKET

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, July 7.—Wheat and oats finished weak and lower on the board of trade today.

Wheat weakened under drastic liquidation induced by apathy among buyers, who element had everything their own way. Crop news was ideal over the domestic belt and Canadian and foreign advices told of greatly improved conditions.

Although corn maintained its firmness to the last, a slight dip cut away a fraction or so from the day's total gains.

Oats fell off with wheat and fine crop reports.

Gaining strength from corn provisions went to a firm and higher finish.

SLASH OIL PRICE

FINDLAY, O., July 7.—The Ohio Oil company today announced a reduction of ten cents a barrel in crude oil.

Delay Plea Date in Murder Case

Arraigned today on a murder charge before Judge R. Y. Williams in superior court here, Ira Noble of La Habra, alleged slayer of Grady B. Rutherford, asserted wealthy Oklahoman, was ordered to file his plea Friday at 9:30 a. m. At that time, it is expected the date of Noble's trial will be set.

Attorney L. A. West, counsel for Noble, appeared on his behalf in court today.

Noble was recently held to answer on the charge at a preliminary hearing conducted before Justice J. B. Cox. He was accused of stabbing the "Indian" to death in a quarrel over a poker game at La Habra.

AUTOIST IS HURT BATTLING BANDITS

Attacked by two highwaymen who jumped on the running board of his automobile Saturday night near San Juan Capistrano, Richard Brown of 556 Commonwealth avenue, Los Angeles, today was nursing body bruises and facial lacerations, according to a report on file at police headquarters here.

Brown was motoring with Mr. and Mrs. P. Ginner of 149 South Alvarado street, Los Angeles, who were returning to the city from a Fourth of July camping trip, when the bandits stepped in front of his car and ordered him to stop. As Brown slowed down, both men were said to have jumped onto the car and a hand-to-hand combat ensued while the car zig-zagged along the road. The assailants were beaten off the machine, and Brown was hurried to Santa Ana for medical attention.

S. A. Banks Give No Dress Edict

It to them how to dress," Crawford stated. "Our girls are strictly business women and they don't dress foolishly anyway. There is no point being used around this bank."

Dress Appropriately.

Trying to regulate women's dress is like trying to keep the sun from shining," in the opinion of W. E. Otis, president of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank.

"We don't feel that we should prescribe the kind of dresses our girls should wear," Otis said. "We are glad to see that all girls in this bank dress appropriately. We are not partial to low neck and sleeveless dresses, and we think that party dresses are as inappropriate for a young woman in a business office as a full dress suit would be for an officer of the bank during business hours."

"We don't tell girls what they shall wear," E. H. Richards, president of the American National, now the Bank of Italy, stated. "We employ them to do their work, and as long as they do it, we don't say anything about their dress."

CANYON CRASH DETAILS TOLD IN COURT

Details of an automobile collision that occurred in Brea canyon last October 30, on which accident damage suits aggregating $25,777 were based, were described in superior court today to Judge R. Y. Williams, who was hearing the trial of the three cases. The machines of Ollie Smith, Ollie O. the worker, who is defendant in the trial, and J. E. Grossnickle, Laguna Beach carpenter, who is one of the plaintiffs, figured in the wreck.

Grossnickle diagrammed the accident on a blackboard for the benefit of the court today, and told how his wife and baby, and his brother, S. R. Grossnickle, had been hurled from his car when the collision occurred. The babe was thrown a distance of thirty feet, he said. Grossnickle charged that Albert Smith, 16, son of the defendant, caused the wreck by his alleged negligent operation of the Smith car.

One of the three actions was filed by Grossnickle, acting alone, and asked $2767 for his injuries. In a second action, filed jointly by Grossnickle and his wife, Alma, $7582 damages were asked for the latter's injuries.

S. R. Grossnickle, the brother, filed the third action, demanding $15,428 for his injuries.

Attorneys L. A. West and C. C. Downing represent the plaintiffs in the cases on trial, with the firm of Kaufman and Martell appearing for the defense. The defense expected to present its case this afternoon.

Wife Left Him, Is Divorce Case Plea

Declaring that his wife deserted him, Phillip P. Schiffer of Anaheim was plaintiff today in a suit for divorce on file in the superior court here against Angeline Schiffer.

Married at Inglewood, January 17, 1920, the couple separated April 19, 1923, the complaint stated. They have no children.

Attorney Leonard Evans of Anaheim filed the action on behalf of Schiffer.

Find Oil Worker's Death Accidental

Accidental death was the verdict of a jury in Fullerton late Saturday at an inquest conducted by Coroner Charles D. Brown in the case of Terry Foster, 24, an employee of the Reliance Oil company at Huntington Beach who died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital here Friday. A fractured skull, he received after a heavy timber fell from the derrick onto him while he was working in the oil field proved fatal to Foster.

The young man's father, who was summoned from Santa Maria, and relatives in Fullerton are arranging for the funeral to be held in Fullerton. Foster was not married.

Fine Autoist $25 Here as 'Drunk'

Persisting in his denial that he was not guilty of a "drunk" charge, E. Munios, 22, of Garden Grove, was today released by Justice J. B. Cox, who dismissed the charge.

Juan Arbelo, 29, also of Garden Grove, admitted that he had been drunk when arrested Friday night with Munios. He was ordered to pay a fine of $25 or serve twenty-five days in the county jail. He went to jail.

Arbelo and Munios were arrested with M. Yokohi, Garden Grove Japanese, whose car had figured in a collision. Yokohi, when haled in to court, Saturday, was ordered to pay a fine of $150 and serve ninety days in jail.

CONSERVATION OF TIMBER IS PROBLEM

political leaders, from the great newspapers, from the pulpit and from the public forum. The American people do not know these facts.

It took America to build the Panama Canal. Other nations thought about it, figured on it, tried to do it. It took American initiative, faith in its ability to accomplish, American confidence in the future, and American capital to make the Panama Canal a reality in modern industrial life. The problem before us at this hour—that of utilizing our unproductive cut-over forest areas so as to make them constantly productive timber supply adequate to our national needs—is a problem infinitely bigger and more important than was the construction of the Panama Canal. It will cost no more money and it will yield greater returns. We cannot allow the hand of partisan political inefficiency to throttle this great movement. It is a task calling for big men. Men who know their problem, men who have faith in America and in America's future.

MAN BATHING 'IN ALTOGETHER' HELD

Because Alex Anderson was alleged to have gone bathing at Huntington Beach yesterday noon in broad daylight without the formality of donning a bathing suit, he was being held today in the city jail there for investigation. Anderson didn't bother at all about his costume, police said.

Anderson was arrested Saturday night for alleged vagrancy. He pleaded that he be freed that he might go to San Pedro to get a "yob" on a boat. He must have heard the call of the sea immediately after leaving the jail, according to Officer A. E. Bannister of the Huntington Beach police force, who answered a frantic call to the waterfront.

Persons said they noticed Anderson disrobing and paid little attention on the supposition that underneath his underwear he had his bathing suit. But he had no bathing suit and after ridding himself of his underwear began to disrobe himself in the well known sea. Officer Bannister got his feet wet before he got him from the water.

Oger Bannister also got his coat wet in the rapid operation of conveying Anderson back to jail.

There Anderson confessed that at Norwalk he had learned to smoke milk weed cigarettes. "Norwalk, eh?" queried John Tinsley, city marshal.

Tinsley was communicating today with the insane asylum officials at Norwalk to learn if Anderson had been entered on the books there.

As ludicrous, perhaps, as an old misconception some skeptical folks used to have about advertising.

There was a time, when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to TELL THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH about their goods in their advertisements.

You can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something really worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their service have confidence in them. You can safely share their confidence.

Inferior merchandise cannot masquerade in the quality clothes of advertising.

AMERICAN FLAG
UP AS YANKEE
STARS WINTaylor First In Hurdles;
Osborne Takes Jump;
Paddock QualifiesBy HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
COLOMBES STADIUM, Paris,
July 7.—The first American victory
in a final Olympic event, was registered this afternoon when G.
Taylor, Grinnell college, won the 400 meter hurdles.The Stars and Stripes went up the flagpole above the scoreboard
while ten points were chalked up for America.Jackson V. Scholz, United States won the first event today, a semifinal heat of the 100 meters dash with Loren Murchison, U. S. A., third, both qualifying. Scholz's time was 10 4-5 seconds.The American team suffered a setback when Irvin, one of the steeplechasers, was forced to abandon today's race, owing to a bad knee.The track still was heavy from yesterday's rains.Paddock is Second H. M. Abrahams, England's crack sprinter, won the second semi-final heat in 19 3-5 seconds, followed by Charley Paddock and Chet Bowman, both of the United States, who also qualified for the final heat.Porrit of New Zealand, was the other qualifier in the first heat.Villem of Finland finished second to Taylor, beating Irvin, U. S. A., S. and Andre, France, who were third and fourth respectively.Taylor's victory and Riley's third place raised America's point score to twenty. Finland still was in the lead with 35 points. Sweden was third with 11.Bob Legendre, New Jersey star, broke the world's record for the broad jump in pentathlon competition this afternoon, with a leap of 7.76 meters.Shatters Record
The cheers that greeted the first appearance of the American flag
on the scoring standard were doubled when Legendre's record breaking performance was announced. Translated into English, he jumped 25 feet, six inches, or three inches farther than any athlete ever leaped before.Charley Brookins, U. S., finished second in the 400-meter hurdles but was disqualified for leaving his lane at the turn. Blackett, England, was disqualified for tripping over too many hurdles.The semi-final heat of the 800 meters was won by Lowe the great Irish middle distance runner, with Houghton, England, second and
"Soapy" Watters of Harvard, U. S., third. Time 1:54 4-5.The American team suffered a severe blow, however, when Dodge of Oregon, after finishing in the 800 meters, spiked himself and limped to the dressing room with blood streaming from his ankle.
The extent of his injury was not determined.Makes Fast Time
Taylor's time in the 400 meters was better than the previous world's record, although not as fast
as that which he himself established in earning a place on the team in the Cambridge tryouts.The 800 meter semi-finals were run in three heats, three men to qualify for the finals.The first heat was won by Stalder, England, with Bill Richardson,
U. S., second, and Martin
Switzerland, third. Time 1:54 1-5.Once more the American flag was raised when Harold Osborne, U. S., shattered an Olympic record in winning the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, six inches. Leroy Brown, U. S., was second, and Lewden, France, third.This meant 15 more points for the United States.Osborne tried in an attempt to establish a new world's record in the high jump, after winning the event for the United States.Milwaukee Owner

MILWAUKEE, July 7.—"The luckiest man in baseball."That's what Milwaukee fans call Otto Borchert, president of the local American association team.Five years ago "O. B." purchased the Brewers from Clarence Rowland, present American league umpire. In all this time he has not lost a single Saturday or Sunday game at home.Not only has Borchert seen his team play with no rain interference but he has amassed a fortune in sales of players that cost little more than a song.To wit:
Denny Gartin, Boston Braves,
cost $750, sold for $25,000.
Joe Hauser, cost nothing, sold for $25,000.Al Simmons, cost nothing, sold for $30,000.
Glenn Myatt, cost nothing, included in Joe Hauser deal, sold for $50,000.Wid Matthews, cost $1000, sold
for $15,000.
Jimmy Cooney, cost $2500, sold to St. Louis Cardinals for $15,000.Hauser and Simmons, Milwaukee boys, came direct from the sand-
lots the same fields that produced

On Working TaxANAHEIM, July 7.—Another fight to reduce the occupational tax in Anaheim for persons who also pay a state license tax has been launched here following the adjourned meeting of the city council at which two petitions were received asking that the assessment be cut. Both petitions were referred to the ordinance committee.One petition was presented from the dentists of the city, and the other signed by members of the realty board. The realty board recently closed a test case which was brought up in an effort to avoid payment of the tax, but the decision ruled in favor of the city ridance.

GOLF DOM

By JOE WILLIAMS

The season has lengthened out almost to the mid-way post and yet no word has drifted in from England telling of additional hole-
in-one triumphs by the venerable Sandy Herd.It may be that the old boy is slipping, as they say down by the gas house.Herd is indisputably the world's champion hole-in-one at all weights
—form and distance considered.Over a space of 35 years' play the ancient Sandy has experienced the maximum golf thrill no fewer than 17 times.The rarity of this record can be better appreciated when it is known that some of the greatest players in the game have yet to make a single hole in one.And yet here is the old Scotchman with 17 to his credit!The runner-up honors in the hole-in-one race probably belong to Jimmy Braid, the English star. Braid has holed out on the fly 11 times.On the other hand, Harry Var-don, most gifted golfer of his time,
and winner of six open championships, has only holed one tee shot.Chick Evans, Chicago amateur,
had probably played as much golf
as any of the stars since 1909, yet
it was only recently that he snared
his second ace.Vardon and Evans happen to rank with the greatest iron-shot makers in the game. Always they are close to the pin with their approaches. The fact that they rarely ever hole out from the tee is proof enough that luck is the main factor in hole-in-one accomplishments.The most notable hole-in-one in recent years was scored by Jack Hutchison, American professional,
at St. Andrews during the 1921 British open championship. This stroke of fortune moved Hutchison into a tie with Roger Wethered,
young Oxford student, and in theFRED HINRICHS

Next Sunday; Lanfranco

meet the Santa Ana Commercial company in the final three-game series for the baseball championship of Orange county.Arthur Trickey's cross-roads crowd won that coveted glory yesterday afternoon when they captured a 4 to 0 thriller from Laguna Beach, the club that tied with the Beanpickers for second place in the Orange county league.
The contest was played at Irvine
as will the "two-out-of-three" series for the title that begins next Sunday.Fred (Dutch) Hinrichs, former University of Southern California mound star, was on the ridge for the Trickey squad and he had slightly the better of Beck Lan-franco, Laguna Beach's veteran sharpsnooter. Hinrichs was touched for five bingles while the Bean-pickers assaulted Lanfranco for six. The Irvine heaver, however,
was accorded much better support, an item that decided the game.With two on and two down in the last of the fourth inning, "Chick" Brown, the Cavedwellers'
usually dependable little center gardener, dropped an easy fly that resulted in two Irvine scores.Again in the last of the fifth an error proved costly, one more tally
following.Hinrichs was invincible, however, and it is doubtful if the Cavedwellers could have given him much worry had they given Lan-franco errorless support.Turner, Irvine center fielder, led the field in sticking with the collection of two safeties out of three trips to the rubber. Jim Ashton, Laguna Beach pitcher who was used at second base yesterday,
also slammed out a pair of singles.The umpiring of Martell was a pleasing feature of the game. This Los Angeles arbiter has shown so much class in his work at Irvine
that he already has been engaged to officiate behind the bat in the series between the Beanpickers
and the Commercial.The box score:

LONDON, July 7.—Bobbed hair
is making a rapid exit from London.
Women and girls who have had their hair cut short are now anxi-permanently waved to lessen the

EVENING SALUTATION

Hope, child, tomorrow and tomorrow still,
And every morrow hope,—trust while you live.
Hope! and each time the dawn doth heaven fill,
Be there to ask, as God is there to give.
—Victor Hugo.

LET'S BE FAIR

Are you fair to your home town merchants?
When money is slack; when crops fail; when credit is needed it is the home town merchant to whom we turn, with confidence for friendly service. And he does not disappoint us. He tides us over with credit; he charges no interest; he provides us with reliable, guaranteed merchandise, fairly priced.
In short he "holds the bag" for us. That is why he deserves all our patronage in times of plenty as well as in days of stress.
And isn't it a pity that there are many who use him only as a leaning post in time of weakness—or as the crest of a wave to tide them over their financial shoals, while they use their cash to fill the coffers
of the big town merchants or the mail order houses,
who wouldn't trust them over night—with, or without, interest!

We all need that home merchant—we need his confidence, his friendship. Our town needs his enprise, the service he renders in handling only guaranteed, first-grade goods that he is here to stand back of day in and day out.
Let's give him our cash when we have it. Let's pay his bills as promptly as we can. Let's earn, and merit, the confidence he has placed in us and in our community. Let's support him—we need him and he needs us—our trade, and our unselfish good will.
Let's be fair!

FOR TAX REDUCTION

Taxpayers in general will welcome the announcement that the Board of Supervisors is planning upon making a substantial reduction in county expenditures for the coming year in comparison with last year and the year previous.

Any relief that any national, state, county or city
governing body can give the taxpayer should be given.
Even though the tax rate can be reduced only ten cents, that reduction should be made.

The county has had to go through a period in which large expenditures were necessary for the rebuilding of highways that had been damaged by heavy trucking; the roads had been built at a time when it could not have been foreseen that the highways would ever be subjected to destructive traffic such as developed. A new hall of records, a juvenile home, additions at the county hospital, a new jail—
these are but the major items of a necessary improvement program. The county's business and departments have grown rapidly in the past ten years, and these additions were necessary.

Although the county was making large expenditures out of the county's annual income, the tax rate at no time went high. For years, Orange county's tax rate, based upon a low assessment, has been among the lowest in the state. There has been less tax burden in this county than in most of our sister counties. Some of the district rates, however, have been necessarily high, and some areas have found the burden heavier than in others.

Throughout the country there has been a widespread demand for lowering of taxes. The federal government has responded with a substantial cut in income taxes. Our present governor was elected on an economy platform. The county supervisors and our city trustees are making their plans to give us the lowest possible rates for the coming year.

UNREVOLUTIONARY AMERICA

It is pleasant to find William Dunn of Montana
sorrowfully telling the Communist Internationale at Moscow that there is no revolutionary party in America today. Mr. Dunn ought to know. He was expelled from the American Federation of Labor for communist activities and found no balm in any other sizeable American group.

There will be no party standing for social and political revolution, he says, "until the Gompers or organization is captured and the 12,000,000 negroes of America stirred up." And that, Mr. Dunn seems to suspect, may take a long time. Regrettably as it appears to such ardent spirits, the rank and file of American labor are solidly conservative, because they know a good thing when they have it, and they do not relish trading material well-being and genuine liberty for any Russian theory of change. As for the American negroes, they too, know which side their bread is buttered on and are impenetrable to alien propaganda.

The mournful Mr. Dunn is everlastingly right about this situation, at any rate. And he and his kind will save time and trouble if they will realize, once for all,
that America had its revolution a century and a half ago, and did the job so thoroughly that it hasn't needed another since.

MORE SOVIET RECOGNITION

The French cabinet has decided to recognize Russia, following a similar decision on the part of the British cabinet. This is the most notable concession yet made anywhere to the Russian Soviet government.

France has held aloof heretofore, less because of principle than because of material grievances. Russia owes France many billions of debt, contracted before the Bolshevik regime, and this debt the Soviet government has always refused to acknowledge.
France has insisted that there could be no recognition without acceptance of responsibility for international debts, no matter when or how contracted.
Now France is changing her mind.

This is partly, no doubt, a result of liberalism. The Herriot party is much more liberal than the Poincare party. But the people evidently agree with the new government in its position that the Soviet government, much as they dislike it, is the only government in Russia, and the only government there is likely to be for some time; and they want to do business with Russia.

AMERICA'S POWER RESOURCES

The United States is still slower than it should be in developing its "white coal" resources. We have a marvelous supply of available waterpower. Applications for permits and licenses for the development of more than 21,000,000 horsepower have been received, but nearly one-half of this is on only three rivers—the Colorado, the Columbia and the St. Lawrence. In addition to our great rivers, there are innumerable others, some in nearly every state of the Union, susceptible of utilization and the development of smaller amounts of power.

In the crowded centers of population where power
is so greatly needed, and in the remote sections
where it is hard to carry fuel, hydroelectric power could be used to tremendous advantage.

There is a federal waterpower act with a federal power commission, but its work has been greatly hampered by lack of co-operation from Congress and by resistance from other states that consider their rights invaded. Only a few rivers, however are local.
New York does contain the Hudson river within its limits, but the Merrimack, the Connecticut, Delaware, Potomac, Ohio, Tennessee, Wabash, Mississippi, Missouri, Colorado, and Columbia rivers are all interstate. The St. Louis and Rio Grande are international.

The nation should demand a uniform and wise system of development and control and should insist that a program be worked out looking to the fullest use of this resource and its most equitable distribution among all the people. France and Italy, with far less opportunity than we have, are pursuing more consistent and progressive policies in this matter than the United States.

Observe All Law Faithfully

Pasadena Star-News
Upon the strict and faithful observance of all law by the masses of the American people depends
the safety of this country and the perpetuity of free institutions. There can be no security without respect for law and obedience to law.

The thoughtful citizen should get the distinction between obedience to law and satisfaction with all laws. There may be laws, from time to time, which are galling and which the people do not want to stand as they were enacted. Here is where the distinction comes in: Duty to country does not demand that the citizen like an unlikable, mayhap inequitable, law. But duty does demand that even an unlikable, inequitable law be obeyed so long as it is law. The path of duty leads to observance of law. The path of opportunity is open, at all times, through constitutional methods, to amend laws or to repeal them altogether. No law is perpetual in this country. Any law may be repealed or amended at any time, through processes established in the Constitution.

This defines, then, the duty of the citizen and the opportunity of the citizen. Duty—obey all laws, no matter how unsatisfactory or defective some laws may be. Opportunity—a privilege—move for the amendment or repeal of any and all laws which are unsatisfactory, defective or ineffective. But obey these laws so long as they are laws. Do not undertake to nullify a bad law through unconstitutional methods.

Are You Educated?

San Bernardino Sun
It seems to be about time that we had a restatement of our definition of education. We are demanding things of the person we call educated which we may have no right to demand of him.
The tendency to look on the educated as a super-intellectual seems to be a hangover from the days when Oliver Goldsmith modestly confessed to a yearning "amidst the swains to show my booklearning skill;" when he pictured the rustics ranged around the village school master discoursing in "words of learned length and thundering sound. And still they gazed and still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew."

The sum total of things to be known has increased many hundredfold since those days, so that even Goldsmith's village master might be considered as nothing remarkable. From this great store of knowledge the schools pick out certain things which are worth knowing and attempt to impart
this knowledge to the boys and girls. We can remember only a small part of what is thus learned, and the chances are that when we meet someone who has remembered we call him educated.

This, of course, is wrong. Some of us may know things which we did not learn in school. It is conceivable that a man may be a most excellent teacher in some line without having heard of Eli Whitney, and it also is conceivable that one may be able to answer all of the Edison questions and still be a failure as a teacher.

Daylight Saving Proposal

Redlands Facts
The present agitation for daylight savings
brings to mind that seven years ago Crombie Allen, editor of the Ontario Report, introduced a bill into the Legislature providing a daylight saving law.
The idea was a new one then and did not get anywhere. Later daylight saving became an established fact during the war period, when we had to save—save—save. Now there is renewed agitation because of the water shortage which is bringing a consequent reduction in the amount of electrical power available. If Allen's bill had been adopted at that time, it would have saved the state a great deal of money. The anomalous thing about it all is that the power companies, which have energy for sale, opposed it then and would doubtless do it again, yet here we are in a period of stress, when they greatly desire it.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.
YOUR HUNDRED PER CENT
You have seen a strong man give an exhibition
of his strength and agility, and have likely considered him as a hundred per cent man. His muscles stood out on his entire body like the "village blacksmith's"
arm. You have then beheld a strong, lithe, rangy boxer, like Dempsey or Carpenter, with less muscle and perhaps a light covering of flesh over some of the muscular parts. You say to yourself, "Well, Dempsey and Carpenter are hundred per cent and yet there's a difference."

Then again you see a light, wiry chap of one hundred and fifty pounds who can do an all-round hard day's labor without fatigue, and you feel that he must be a hundred per cent man.

As a matter of fact, you are right in all these cases, because you are only comparing the present condition of each of these types of men with what his body can do when it is at its best.

What about you? Are you one hundred per cent?
You may have a strong body and be capable of a hard day's work, but you have a kink in your shoulder or a pain in a joint. Perhaps you have to be extremely careful about your diet.

An aching tooth or a throat that gives you trouble may be your portion. It may be that toward evening you find yourself more tired than you think you should be for your age, or for the amount of work you have done. Now you are in pretty good shape physically and yet you know in your heart
you are not your one hundred per cent. The optimist who thinks nothing can ever be seriously wrong with him, or the pessimist who imagines all sorts of ailments, can both be wrong in their estimate of the percentage of health they possess.

So take a look into your own condition. If you are really your hundred per cent why not go after it? Living to be of a great age may be all right, but having your hundred per cent now is what counts.

LOVE'S OMNIPRESENCE

Were I as base as is the lowly plain,
And you, my Love, as high as heaven above,
Yet should the thoughts of me your humble swain
Ascend to heaven, in honor of my Love?
Were I as high as heaven above the plain,
And you, my Love, as humble and as low,
As are the deepest bottoms of the main,
Wheresoe'er you were, with you my love should go.
Were you the earth, dear Love, and I the skies,
My love should shine on you like to the sun,
And look upon you with ten thousand eyes
Till heaven wax'd blind, and till the world were done.
Wheresoe'er I am, below, or else above you,
Wheresoe'er you are, my heart shall truly love you.
—Joshua Sylvester.

The Use of Books

By Wm. E. Gladstone
Books are delightful society. If you go into a room and find it full of books, even without taking them from their shelves, they seem to speak to you, to bid inside their covers good for you, and that they are willing and desirous to impart to you. Value them much.

Endeavor to turn them to good account, and pray recollect this,
that the education of the mind is not merely a storage of goods in the mind. The mind of men, some people seem to think, is a storehouse to be filled with a quantity of useful commodities which may be taken out like packets from a shop, and delivered and distributed according to the occasions of life.

I will not say this is not true as far as it goes, but it goes a very little way. For commodities may be taken out, but the warehouse remains just the same as it was before, or probably a little worse.
That ought not to be the case with a man's mind.

No doubt you are able to cull knowledge useful for temporal purposes of life, but never forget the purpose for which a man lives is improvement of the man himself, so he may go out of this world having, in his great sphere or his small one, done some little good to his fellow creatures, and labored a little to diminish the sin and the sorrow that are in the world.

Worth While Verse

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

I know a place where the sun is like gold,
And the cherry blossoms burst with snow,
And down underneath is the loveliest nook,
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

One leaf is for hope, and one is for faith,
And one is for love, you know,
And God put another in for luck—
If you search, you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith,
You must love and be strong—and so—
If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.
—Ella Higginson.

Farmer-Labor

New York Times

Regions so far apart as Minnesota and South Africa have just witnessed a movement of the Farmer-Labor idea. A Farmer-Labor convention at St. Paul has adopted a program which stands in great need of textual criticism before its precise meaning can be determined, but whose general intention is anti-capitalistic. In the Union of South Africa the Smuts
government has been decisively defeated by an alliance of Boer farmers and British mine workers. In those countries where the tillers of the soil are not "peasants" the necessary substitute for the Soviet formula of government by peasants and workers has been found in government by Farmer-Labor. It is a theory which brings together
the real "producers," the men who work in the factories and the men who work in the fields. Everything else, presumptuous and profitless; but "involuntarily and profitless" for the intellectual labor is legitimate.

Just where intellectual labor stops and intellectual profiteering begins has not yet been clearly defined; and perhaps wisely so for the Farmer-Labor movement. The common interests of the two are supposed to consist in their common exploitation by the capitalistic middleman more popularly known as Wall Street. It would threaten that supposed common-ity of interests if it were shown that the middleman who works with his brains may be as useful
a citizen as the salaried brain-workers. Some such perilous suggestion has already been made, of all places, in the original home of government by peasants and workers. Lenin began by reminding his countrymen that the "technician,"
the intellectual worker, is as indispensable as the factory operative.
He went on to acknowledge that there are times when the "capitalist," the bourgeois trader and middleman, is also indispensable. To be sure, it was only a temporary condition. The time would come when communism could dispense with the capitalist remnant. But after three years of the new economic policy the time is apparently not yet at hand.

Once doubt arises about the theory of the superfluous middleman, the weakness of the bond between farmer and labor becomes manifest. The labor which has been most active in seeking a partnership with the farmer is labor heavily tinged with communism.
The farmer and peasant is by definition almost a capitalist, a property owner, and in that respect the most formidable opponent of the communist ideal. That again has been demonstrated in Russia. The republic of peasants and workers is essentially a republic only of workers. The Russian peasant stands apart from the Soviet government, indifferent to what goes on in the cities, and asking in turn to be left alone. And virtually the mujik is being left alone, once he has made his contribution to taxes and army recruits. By this abstention and his previous active opposition, the Russian peasant
has compelled Lenin's government to make drastic departures from the communist ideal.

Between the conservative Boer farmer and radical labor on the Rand the same basic differences prevail. The communist insurrection of 1922 on the Rand was crushed largely with the aid of farmer volunteers from the veldt.
The Nationalist-Labor "pact" which brought about the defeat of Smuts
is essentially a temporary war alliance; and before that combination could be effected the labor party had to abandon the most radical features on its program. At St. Paul the other day farmer sentiment grew restless under the more militant phrases in the program of W. Z. Foster. Doubts as to the righteousness of "property" in itself were frowned upon. The only kind of property against which common cause was made was presumably Wall Street's property, and Wall Street in that case would be, among other things,
the 20 billions in railroad bonds
and stocks which Senator Brookhart a few days ago found it so easy to annihilate—in the columns of The New York American.

When the common enemy, the "predatory interests," have been sufficiently denounced, it is likely that the conflicting interests of farmer and labor will begin to assert themselves. The high cost of living and the excessive freight rates under which the farmer thinks himself crushed may become explicable in terms largely of high wages for labor. Under the government ownership of railroads
the farmer and the railroad worker may find themselves in opposite lobbies. In Russia the government has been cutting factory wages drastically in order to bring manufactured goods within the reach of the peasant.

OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 23—A TRIP TO SOUTH AMERICA

"What a beautiful flower!" exclaimed Nancy the next night when they came to the magic garden.

"It certainly is," said Johnny Jump Up. "It is considered one of the finest and most beautiful flowers in the whole world. Men risk their lives in all sorts of places to get it. It is called an orchid."

"Would you like to see the place where orchids grow?" asked a new voice, and a fairy popped up in the flower like a little Jack-in-the-Pulpit.

"Oh, yes, yes!" cried the Twins.
"May we go on another adventure?"

"Of course," answered the fairy.
"Johnny Jump Up, please call Tommy Timmouse. Where is he?"

"I'm here," said Tommy sleepily.
"Do we have to go far?"

"To South America," said the fairy. "For that is where orchids grow! I've bought the tickets."

"Jimmy Christmas!" said Tommy. "That must be a million miles
away."

"Not quite," said the fairy, "but it's far enough, so you'd better be starting. The Fairy Queen sent me to tell you all to have a good time
and not to miss anything."

"We won't!" cried the Twins.
"We won't!" cried Johnny Jump
Up, all three hopping onto Tommy Timmouse's back and flying away.
Pretty soon they came to South America.

"Now I'll show you where several kinds of orchids grow," said Johnny Jump Up.

Tommy settled down on a great tree covered with Spanish moss growing right out of the trunk of
